

Degree:

1. Rutgers School of Public Health already has students matriculating in the Occupational Safety and Health concentration of the MPH Program.
2. Rutgers-Newark's Environmental Science Program has officially been given authorization to matriculate students into the Environmental Health Safety Concentration.
3. Rutgers School of Public Health' MPH Program and the Rutgers-Newark's Environmental Science Program has an agreement for a BS/MPH program for qualified student to complete in 5 years (4+1)
4. Rutgers Rutgers-Newark's Environmental Science Program collaborating with community colleges to transfer student in various STEM programs into the Environmental Health Safety Concentration.
5. NJSISC, NJDOLWD and Rutgers to create an EHS apprenticeship program in our state.