177th flies through Health Services Inspection with outstanding rating

By Tech. Sgt. Mark Olsen, 177FW/PA

"This unit is hallmarked for continued success."

That was the final assessment of the 177th Medical Group, 177th Fighter Wing, New Jersey Air National Guard, which received its second Outstanding rating in a row during the Health Services Inspection.

The Directorate of Medical Operations, Headquarters Air Force Inspection Agency, Kirtland Air Force Base, N.M., was the lead agency on the inspection, which was held from March 27-30 at the 177th. Health Services Inspections are held every five years.

"From Airman to Colonel, they're all professionals and they bring those talents to the fight," stated Col. Barbara J. Johnston, Director, ARC Medical Inspection Division, Air Force Inspection Agency. "They definitely shine."

Outstanding is the highest rating possible on the inspection scale, which ranks units on a score of 100 points – the 177th Medical Group received a 96 – and includes excellent, satisfactory, marginal and unsatisfactory in its ratings.

"It is harder to get an outstanding (on an inspection) because the scoring has changed," noted Johnston.

So think of it as a solid A grade similar to what you got in high school.

Health Services Inspections assess readiness, provide an independent assessment of medical care, identify instances of fraud, waste or abuse; and evaluate and report on the effectiveness and efficiency of medical management.

In the final report, the Occupational Medicine Program was lauded as exemplary and should be shared throughout the Air National Guard.

"They know their programs and they are making sure that those programs are staying in line," observed Johnston. "What we saw, that's called sustainment."

That sustainment is what led the 177th Medical Group to receive that Outstanding rating according to the inspection team's final report. The report cited that the full-time Airmen and the traditional Guardsmen dedicate far more time than what is expected to ensure the success of the 177th Medical Group.

USPFO IG inspection is successful

From the New Jersey USPFO

The United States Property and Fiscal Office (USPFO) recently completed their First Army IG Inspection with great success. Overall, there were NO FINDINGS. They received 15 Commendables, citing specific people and functions for achievement. Col. Ronald Cefalone mentioned that their inspection success is directly attributable to a "Family Atmosphere" where everyone works together to achieve the mission. It's obvious from these results that it certainly is a well oiled "TEAM" environment. The USPFO, by Federal Statute, must get an IG Inspection every 18-24 months by an

Raising funds for Fisher House

On Saturday, May 17, the Fort Monmouth Combined Professional Associations, which include Army Aviation Association of America (Quad A), Association of the United States Army (AUSA) and Signal Corps Regimental Association (SCRA), will be hosting the 4th Annual Support Our Heroes Military Ball in support of the Fisher House at Gibbs Hall, Fort Monmouth, N.J. The ball is free for military and costs $75 for non-military. The uniform for the event is the service equivalent for black-tie.

The Fisher House is a unique private-public partnership that supports America's military in their time of need. The program recognizes the special sacrifices of our men and women in uniform and the hardships of military service by meeting a humanitarian need beyond that normally provided by DOD and the VA.

Because members of the military and their families are stationed worldwide and must often travel great distances for specialized medical care, Fisher House Foundation donates "comfort homes," built on the grounds of major military and VA medical centers. These homes enable family members to be close to a loved one at the most stressful time – during the hospitalization for an unexpected illness, disease, or injury.

For more information on sponsorships or for donations to the auction, contact Kit Roache at Kit.Roache@gdc4s.com, or Cheryl Davidson at cdavidso@harris.com. For registration information contact Diane Carnes at diane.carnes@tmsg.sytexinc.com.

For the Families

New Family Leave related to military service

On January 28, President George W. Bush signed into law the National Defense Authorization Act for FY 2008 (NDAA), Public Law 110-181. Section 585(a) of the NDAA amended the FMLA to provide eligible employees working for covered employers two important new leave rights related to military service:

New Qualifying Reason for Leave. Eligible employees are entitled to up to 12 weeks of leave because of "any qualifying exigency" arising out of the fact that the spouse, son, daughter or parent of the employee is on active duty or has been notified of an impending call to active duty status, in support of a contingency operation. By the terms of the statute, this provision requires the Secretary of Labor to issue regulations defining "any qualifying exigency." In the interim, employers are encouraged to provide this type of leave to qualifying employees.

New Leave Entitlement. An eligible employee who is the spouse, son, daughter, parent or next of kin of a covered servicemember who is recovering from a serious illness or injury sustained in the line of duty on active duty is entitled to up to 26 weeks of leave in a single 12 month period to care for the servicemember. This provision became effective immediately upon enactment. This military caregiver leave is available during "a single 12-month period" during which an eligible employee is entitled to a combined total of 26 weeks of all types of FMLA.

Additional information on the amendments and a version of Title 1 of the FMLA with the new statutory language incorporated is available on the FMLA amendments Web site at http://www.dol.gov/esa/whd/fmla/NDAA_fmla.htm.

A Troop has virtual FRG on AKO

From Patricia Keffer, A Troop FRG member

102 CAV A Troop now has a Virtual FRG (vFRG). This is a Web site that will have useful A Troop information as well as general information. We will be able to share photos, ask questions, share stories and much more. While this will not replace the face-to-face contact that we get from FRG meetings and events this will provide a connection to those members that are not able to attend in person. One of the best features of our new vFRG is the ability for the soldiers to access the site while they are away. The soldiers will also be able to share and view pictures, stories, and much more. For security reasons the site is restricted to members of AKO. Gaining access is simple; an AKO account is required. For more information on the site or for questions on how to set up an AKO account please email Patricia Keffer at Patricia.Keffer@us.army.mil.

The program then moves into friendship, forgiveness, fun and sensuality.

If you are interested in attending or need additional information, please call Marie Durling at 609-562-0739 or e-mail marie.durling@nj.ngb.army.mil.

These seminars usually fill up fast, so if interested, please call as soon as possible. The next seminar will be May 2-4 at the Flanders Hotel in Ocean City, N.J. (This weekend is currently full.) Association News

Enlisted Association wants YOU!

By retired Command Sgt. Maj. Mike Hughes, EANG-NJ

The Enlisted Association National Guard-New Jersey is off to a good start for 2008 as we have realigned all the committees and filled both the Executive Council and Committees with a cross section of Army and Air, uniformed and retirees, and several junior NCOs. Everyone appears to be enthused and pledges to support the Association in all its efforts. All we need now is for you to get on board as a member and bring your fellow soldiers and airmen with you.

We have many challenges facing us over the next few years whether it is another round of base closures via the Base Realignment Commission (BRAC), reduction in TRICARE benefits, reduction in troop strength, attempts to maintain the retirement age at 60, etc. We need a powerful voice to put our message across to the State and Federal Legislators and this can only be accomplished through a strong membership in our State Association (EANG-NJ) and the National Association (EANGUS).

The new membership year starts on 1 January 2008 and we need your help in making our Association grow. We encourage all enlisted soldiers and airmen to join the Association as Active Members and also welcome all officers, warrant officers, federal, and state employees to join as Associate Members. Applications for membership can be obtained from our website www.eang-nj.org.

VA Launches Suicide Hotline

To ensure veterans with emotional crises have round-the-clock access to trained professionals, the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) has begun operation of a national suicide prevention hot line for veterans. Secretary of Veterans Affairs Jim Nicholson said: "Veterans need to know these VA professionals are literally a phone call away. All service members who experience the stresses of combat can have wounds on their minds as well as their bodies. Veterans should see mental health services as another benefit they have earned, which the men and women of VA are honored to provide." VA's hot line will be staffed by mental health professionals in Canandaigua, N.Y. They will take toll-free calls from across the country and work closely with local VA mental health providers to help callers. The toll-free hot line number is 1 (800) 273-TALK (8255).
