Crime Victims Bill of Rights (NJS 52:4B-36)

Without the participation and cooperation of crime victims and witnesses, the criminal justice system would cease to function. The rights of these individuals should be given full recognition and protection. The State has the responsibility to enhance and protect the necessary role of crime victims and witnesses in the criminal justice process. In furtherance of this, the improved treatment of these persons should be assured through the establishment of specific rights. These rights are among the most fundamental and important in assuring public confidence in the criminal justice system.

Crime victims and witnesses are entitled to the following rights:

- a. To be treated with dignity and compassion by the criminal justice system
- b. To be informed about the criminal justice process
- c. To be free from intimidation
- d. To have inconveniences associated with participation in the criminal justice process minimized to the fullest extent possible
- e. To make at least one telephone call provided the call is reasonable in both length and location called
- f. To medical assistance if, in the judgment of the law enforcement agency, medical assistance appears necessary
- g. To be notified if presence in court is not needed
- h. To be informed about available remedies, financial assistance and social services
- i. To be compensated for their loss whenever possible
- j. To be provided a secure, but not necessarily separate, waiting area during court proceedings
- k. To be advised of case progress and final disposition
- l. To the prompt return of property when no longer needed as evidence
- m. To submit a written statement about the impact of the crime to a representative of the county prosecutor's office which shall be considered prior to the prosecutor's final decision concerning whether formal criminal charges will be filed
- n. To make, prior to sentencing, an in-person statement directly to the sentencing court concerning the impact of the crime. This statement is to be made in addition to the statement permitted for inclusion in the presentence report by N.J.S. 2C:44-6. In any homicide prosecution the victim's survivor may display directly to the sentencing court at the time of this statement a photograph of the victim taken before the homicide.

the sexual assault survivor protection act (SASPA)

The Sexual Assault Survivor Protection Act (SASPA) expands opportunities for survivors of sexual violence to apply for a protective order against their perpetrator, without reporting to law enforcement or filing criminal charges. SASPA was passed into law in November 2015 and was enacted in May 2016.

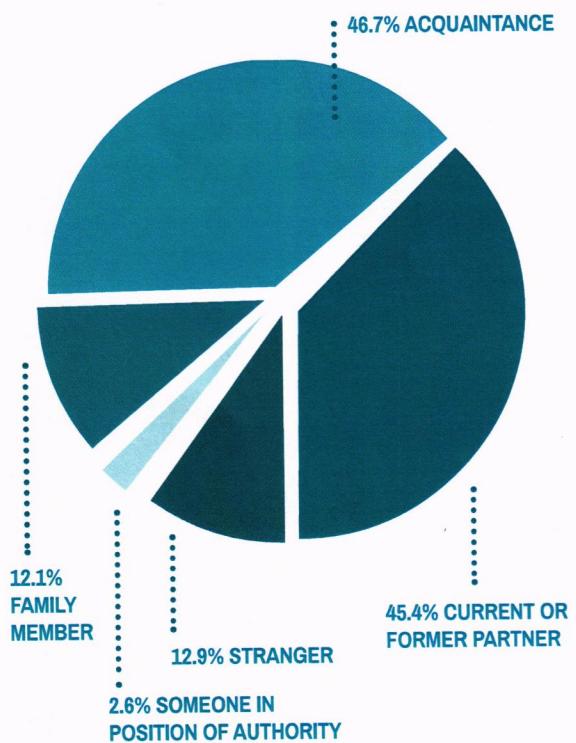

The vast majority of sexual violence survivors know their perpetrator. SASPA closed a legal loophole, where protective orders weren't available for survivors of sexual assault unless there was a charge or conviction.

WHAT IS A PROTECTIVE ORDER & WHAT DOES IT DO?

A protective order is a document issued by the court to help protect a survivor from a perpetrator and stop any further acts of violence or intimidating behaviors.

A protective order can shield survivors from:

- Further acts of violence
- Seeing a perpetrator (the person can be prevented from entering specific places that the survivor or their household members regularly frequent, such as work, home, or school)
- Future contact with their perpetrator (whether in-person, over the phone, or through another person)
- Stalking behaviors
- Harassment, including online harassment, of the survivor, their family members, or their employer/employees
- Any other relief the court deems appropriate

Data per the National Intimate Partner and Sexual Violence Survey, 2014. Results add up to over 100% to account for multiple perpetrators.

© New Jersey Coalition Against Sexual Assault 2017.

The New Jersey Coalition Against Sexual Assault (NJCASA) is the statewide organization representing 21 county-based rape crisis centers and Rutgers University's Office for Violence Prevention and Victim Assistance. NJCASA elevates the voices of survivors and service providers through advocacy, training, and support for efforts to create safer communities for all women, men and children.

WHAT IS A PROTECTIVE ORDER & WHAT DOES IT DO?

There are two types of protective orders: a temporary protective order (TPO) and a final protective order (FPO).

- A temporary protective order is the initial type of protective order survivors can receive. It protects against the same kind of harassing behaviors as a final protective order, but it only remains in place until the final protective order hearing.

- A final protective order outlines harassing behaviors that cannot continue. It is forwarded to the police department where the survivor lives, as well as where the perpetrator lives. FPOs never expire, and are valid anywhere in New Jersey.

WHO CAN APPLY FOR A PROTECTIVE ORDER UNDER SASPA?

Generally, survivors of sexual violence who are subjected to continued harassing behaviors from their abuser, who do not qualify for a domestic violence restraining order, can apply for a protective order under SASPA.

Survivors can apply for a protective order regardless of if the assault was reported to law enforcement.

If you feel you are in immediate danger, contact local law enforcement.

WHY MAY SOMEONE CHOOSE TO APPLY FOR A PROTECTIVE ORDER?

Everyone's situation is unique and requesting a protective order is a decision only the survivor can make. For some, a protective order will end harmful behaviors. Others may feel a protective order could cause a perpetrator to escalate.

Protective order hearings can be stressful – it may not be the right decision for you at this time, or ever. Every person has the right to practice self-care and make decisions that are best for their own wellbeing.

► be prepared:

While a protective order will discourage many perpetrators from continuing harassing behavior, it is often one piece of a comprehensive plan for safety and well-being. Working with an advocate may help a survivor feel empowered to access other support systems.

HOW DO SURVIVORS APPLY FOR A TEMPORARY PROTECTIVE ORDER?

A person who is seeking a protective order may file in person at the Superior Court in their county. A list of courthouses in New Jersey is available at:

<https://www.njcasa.org/find-a-courthouse/>

The process may take several hours. You will need to provide a specific and comprehensive written statement to a hearing officer. Everything included in this statement can be brought up in the protective order hearing(s); anything not included cannot be referenced in your testimony.

It's important that the statement comprehensively details abusive or harassing behaviors and is specific. Include actual language the perpetrator used.

► example:

Rather than saying, "He texted me a lot," include detail, such as: "He texted me six times in one hour, threatening to release pictures of me."

There are no court fees associated with receiving a TPO. While a lawyer is not necessary to seek a PO, it may be helpful to speak to one or to contact an advocate. Your county-based sexual violence service provider can provide trained advocates to provide additional information, link you with resources, and offer emotional support; find a program at:

What Is Sexual Assault?

The term sexual assault encompasses a broad range of unwanted sexual activities, all of which are crimes that have a profound effect on victims. Sexual assault can happen to anyone, regardless of age, racial or cultural background, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation or socioeconomic status. Likewise, perpetrators can be anyone: strangers, acquaintances, friends, family members, intimate partners and other people in positions of trust.

Sex offenders are motivated by the need to control, humiliate and harm their victims. They may use force, threat, coercion and manipulation. They may prey on persons who are not free to consent to sexual contact due to mental incapacity, disability, intoxication (voluntary and involuntary) or because the person is under age. Whatever the circumstances, no one asks or deserves to be sexually assaulted.

If You Are a Victim or Survivor

Understand that you are not to blame. No matter who you are, what you say or do, or where you go, you do not deserve to be sexually assaulted. You may feel shocked or angry that it could happen to you.

You may be anxious about your safety. You may feel guilt or shame, or you may fear that your family and friends will blame you for the assault.

Victims often suffer a variety of physical reactions from changes in eating and sleeping patterns to nightmares and flashbacks. Sexual assault is a violation of a person's sense of safety and trust. Whatever your reactions or fears, it is important to understand that they are normal. It is also important to know that help is available, whether or not you decide to report the crime.

What to Expect If You Report

- Interview with law enforcement
  - Law enforcement may attempt to interview suspect
  - Suspect may/may not give a statement
  - Law enforcement will continue to investigate
- If criminal charges are authorized, you may also have the right to obtain a Sex Offense Restraining Order (SORO) against the perpetrator. The Ocean County Prosecutor's Office will assist you in obtaining this order.

Case will be reviewed by an Assistant Prosecutor from the Ocean County Prosecutor's Office

- If charges are authorized, the perpetrator may be arrested and lodged in county jail. The case will go through the criminal justice process in the Superior Court.
- If charges are not authorized, it does not mean the abuse did not occur. Charges may be declined due to the inability to prove the case beyond a reasonable doubt.
- If a decision regarding charges is delayed, our office may be waiting for lab results, witness statements or other reports. Once everything is received, the case will be reviewed by the Assistant Prosecutor.

Additional Protection Available

- If criminal charges are declined for prosecution, you may still have the ability to obtain a protective order under the "Sexual Assault Survivor Protection Act of 2015" (SASPA). In order to obtain a SASPA order, you must contact the Ocean County Court Family Division at 732-929-2019
