Program Summary

This program is designed for law enforcement personnel, prosecutors, analysts and tech agents with limited or no prior experience in wiretap investigations. This program will highlight the effectiveness of using wiretaps to identify, document and successfully prosecute narcotics trafficking organizations and violent street gangs dealing in narcotics, as well as show their usefulness in homicide, robbery, kidnapping, fugitive and public corruption investigations. Participants will receive an in-depth overview of the laws pertaining to the interception of communications, legal guidelines regarding what kind of conversations can be intercepted, sealing requirements, and a list of potential court orders that will be needed in a wiretap investigation. Participants will also be given practical instruction on drafting the actual intercept affidavit and order. This program will include a detailed discussion on a variety of topics, including current intercept technologies, the pre-wiretap investigation needed to obtain an interception order, the actual wiretap investigation during the wire, and how to properly manage and run the wiretap room. Participants will also be given information on specific reports that need to be generated, voice identification issues, and take down day considerations. Finally, this program will highlight for investigators and prosecutors the anticipated legal arguments and case agent testimony justifying the need for the interception order, extensions and spin wires.

1 This training is provided by the Multijurisdictional Counterdrug Task Force Training Program, a division of the Center for Public Safety Innovation at St. Petersburg College.
