Program Summary

The 2015 Supreme Court decision in North Carolina State Board of Dental Examiners v. FTC set a new standard for determining whether a state licensing board is immune from antitrust liability for its anticompetitive acts. This presentation will discuss the significance of the decision for multi-member regulatory bodies, including licensing boards, and measures likely to guard against antitrust liability for professional board members. No prior knowledge of antitrust law is necessary for this course.

Who Should Attend?

This course is intended for attorneys who represent multi-member regulatory boards, however, others may find it of interest.
