Program Summary

Today's attorneys are often reluctant to embrace new technology, letting fear of the unknown stand in the way of innovations that could significantly enhance their productivity. This program will assist attorneys with using technology to streamline their practice and improve their research skills. Working primarily through relevant and engaging examples, it will reveal the powerful hidden features of WestLawNext and Lexis Advance; introduce myriad web and desktop shortcuts and applications that simplify common legal tasks; and introduce basic coding skills and practices.

Who Should Attend?

This program is designed for attorneys of all technical skill levels, and will be of particular interest to attorneys practicing in the Division of Law.

Who Is the Faculty?

DAG Daniel F. Thornton joined the Division of Law after clerking in the Appellate Division and working in private practice. Prior to entering the legal field, Daniel worked as a software engineer and technology consultant at Booz Allen Hamilton, Lockheed Martin, and Northrop Grumman.
