Program Summary

This program will address two distinct but equally important topics: pre-trial motion practice and court-administered diversionary programs. The first portion of the presentation will provide a general overview of the pre-trial motion practice typically encountered by New Jersey prosecutors in State trial courts. The second portion of the presentation will focus on the nuts and bolts of two major diversionary programs utilized by New Jersey criminal courts: Pretrial Intervention and Drug Court. Relevant statutes, guidelines, court and evidentiary rules, and case law applicable to both subject areas will also be discussed.
