Program Summary

This presentation will provide a framework for reviewing, drafting or revising a written agreement for State entity clients. It will focus on how to “lawyer” an agreement for an agency client, including ways to improve the client’s ability to maximize the benefits of a written agreement and to protect the client from the risks that can arise from a written agreement. Benefits include ensuring that the client actually receives what it wants and needs from the other party to an agreement so the client can pursue its public policy and statutory missions. Risks include breach of contract (by either party), disagreement between the parties as to what the written agreement means, confidentiality breaches, audit risks and many others. This presentation is designed for attorneys of all experience levels, including newer attorneys and those with limited experience representing public entities.

Who Should Attend?

This program is open to all government attorneys, but will be of special interest to attorneys from agencies that handle their own contracting.

Who Is the Faculty?

Beth Leigh Mitchell is the AAG in charge of State-wide contracting and procurement in the Division of Law's Financial Affairs Practice Group. She counsels all State entities and assists DAsG in all sections in advising on contract procurements, contracts and other written agreements, contract and agreement disputes and contract claims, as well as on State grant programs and federal requirements impacting contracts and grants. Prior to joining the Financial Affairs Practice Group, she was an Assistant Section Chief in the Health and Human Services Section. AAG Mitchell received her Bachelor of Fine Arts from the Rhode Island School of Design and her J.D. from Rutgers University School of Law, Newark, NJ.
