RAISING CONSCIOUSNESS: IMPLICIT BIAS INTERRUPTED

Research has established that, unwittingly, all of us have attitudes or buy into stereotypes that influence our impressions about and interactions with other people. The term “implicit bias” has been coined to reflect those unconscious influences, whether they are positive or negative. Implicit bias impacts our professional lives as attorneys, whether in our workplace relationships with supervisors, peers or subordinates at work, or in how we relate to adversaries, judicial personnel, jurors or others. Fortunately, research has also shown that these unconscious biases can be interrupted, enabling us to be more mindful and intentional in how we lead, work with and respond to the people around us. This training will review the research and science in this area, overview the tools for assessing implicit bias and its common forms, and provide practical techniques for interrupting and mitigating implicit bias in the workplace.

This presentation will offer deputies a framework for reviewing, drafting or revising a written agreement for State entity clients. The presentation will focus on how to “lawyer” an agreement for an agency client, including ways to improve the client’s ability to maximize the benefits of a written agreement and to protect the client from the risks that can arise from a written agreement. Benefits include ensuring that the client actually receives what it wants and needs from the other party to an agreement so the client can pursue its public policy and statutory missions. Risks include breach of contract (by either party), disagreement between the parties as to what the written agreement means, confidentiality breaches, audit risks and many others. This presentation is designed for attorneys of all experience levels, including newer attorneys and those with limited experience representing public entities.
