Program Summary

This program examines policing within the legal and political framework of Nazi Germany - a journey that eventually turned those who should protect life and liberty into those who intimidated, humiliated, deported, and eventually murdered millions of innocent people. The study of the Holocaust provides an important insight into the consequences that can occur when the government shifts the mission of the police from protecting individuals to a policy of abusing basic human rights. How Germany changed in less than a decade from a free, democratic, and scientifically advanced society to a totalitarian regime that systematically targeted and murdered millions of its own citizens is a lesson a free society must learn – or be destined to repeat the same mistakes of the past. Using historical images and stories from the Holocaust, trained facilitators will engage prosecutors and law enforcement officers in a dialogue about the role of law enforcement in today's communities and the importance of core values in ensuring the integrity and vibrancy of democracy.

Eligibility

This program is open to County Prosecutors and Assistant Prosecutors, Division of Criminal Justice Assistant and Deputy Attorneys General, Department of Law and Public Safety executive staff and law enforcement officers from their respective offices invited to attend. Registrants will receive the course materials on the day of the program.
