LPS Ethics Code Review

September 20, 2022
1:00 p.m. – 3:00 p.m.

WEBINAR

Program Summary

Employees of the Department of Law & Public Safety must comply with special ethics requirements that are specific to this department. In addition to the ethics standards set by the New Jersey Conflicts of Interest Law and Uniform Ethics Code, employees must understand and abide by an additional, supplemental ethics code that addresses requirements that are unique to working at LPS. This program will focus exclusively on the LPS Supplementary Ethics Code, highlighting the heightened, additional ethics standards that apply to LPS employees. The presenters will address political activity restrictions, prohibitions on outside law practice, use of official stationery and limitations on other outside activities. The training will provide real world examples and scenarios to guide LPS employees in navigating the complex ethics issues that may arise during the course of their employment.

Eligibility

This program is open to all employees in the Department of Law and Public Safety.

Faculty

AAG Melissa Liebermann is the Department of Law & Public Safety's Chief Ethics & Compliance Officer. She provides ethics advice and counsel to department employees on the application of the Conflicts of Interest Law, the Uniform Ethics Code, the LPS Supplementary Ethics Code, the Rules of Professional Conduct and other ethics standards. AAG Liebermann was previously Chief of Staff and Counsel to the Attorney General. Before joining LPS, she served in the Office of the State Comptroller as Chief of Staff and Deputy State Comptroller, where she oversaw audits of government programs and investigations of government employee misconduct. Prior to working for the OSC, AAG Liebermann was an Assistant Counsel to the Governor and a litigation associate at a large New Jersey law firm. AAG Liebermann began her legal career as a Deputy Attorney General in the Division of Law, representing the Division of Consumer Affairs. She clerked for J.A.D. Philip S. Carchman (ret.). She holds a B.A. in Political Science from Tufts University and a J.D. with honors from Rutgers School of Law-Newark.

DAG Regan Barbetti serves in the Department of Law & Public Safety's Office of Ethics and Compliance. Before joining LPS, she was the Ethics Compliance Officer and a legal specialist for the New Jersey State Ethics Commission. Prior to her State service, DAG Barbetti was a partner at the law firm of Goldstein Bachman & Newman, where she practiced family law. She worked at the law firm of Graham Curtin in Morristown and began her legal career at Wilson, Elser, Moskowitz, Edelman & Dicker in Newark. DAG Barbetti clerked for Presiding Judge E. David Millard in Ocean County. She holds a B.S. in Administration from Villanova University and a J.D. from Seton Hall Law School.
