

PROGRAM ANNOUNCEMENT

The Advocacy Institute Is Pleased to Present

Effective Opening Statements

November 1, 2022
1:30 p.m. – 2:30 p.m.

WEBINAR*

Note: This webinar will be simulcast from a live program.

Program Summary

This program will focus on how to effectively present an opening statement that leaves a lasting impression and carries you through the trial to victory. The presentation will help students develop and persuasively present the framework from which the jury will evaluate the case for the rest of the trial. The presenter will focus on techniques that highlight how to effectively grab a jury's attention and present a concise, convincing and compelling unified case theory from both a factual and legal basis. Areas of discussion will include capturing the jury's attention at the outset; previewing the evidence that will be introduced to support a unified case theory and to undermine the other side; and, making the presentation as a whole persuasive to convince the jury to later find in your favor.

Eligibility

This program is mandatory for new assistant prosecutors and Division of Criminal Justice deputies hired after October 2021 who have been selected to attend by each county prosecutor's office and the Division of Criminal Justice. Other assistant prosecutors and deputy and assistant attorneys general in the Divisions of Criminal Justice and Law are also welcome to register. Registrants will receive the course materials prior to the program date.

Faculty

Kelly A. Testa is a Deputy First Assistant prosecutor of the Camden County Prosecutor's Office.

She is also the Section Chief of the Special Victims Unit, where she leads investigations involving crimes against children in Camden County. The unit handles crimes involving sexual and physical abuse and locates missing and runaway children. She was previously the head of the Trial Team and High-Tech Crimes Units. Since joining the Camden County Prosecutor's Office in 2001, Kelly has served in the Homicide, Shoot Response Team, Narcotics, Major Crimes, Domestic Violence, Motions, Juvenile, and Trial Team Units. Over her career, she has tried homicide, sexual assault, child abuse, child pornography, narcotics, aggravated assault, and weapons offenses cases. In 2014, she ran a wiretap investigation which led to the arrest of 40 people, including a police officer who was convicted after trial. She is also a legal advisor to police departments in Camden County. Kelly received a Bachelor's Degree in English and History from Rutgers College, Rutgers University in New Brunswick and her J.D. from Rutgers University School of Law – Camden.
