WEBINAR

Program Summary

This course will cover an array of issues relating to pretrial motion practice in criminal matters. Subjects will include common pretrial motions, motions in limine, the conduct of a pretrial hearing on motions filed before trial, how to make offers of proof, and common mistakes in pretrial hearings. The presenter will also address relevant legal precedent relating to motion practice and important court and evidence rules.

Eligibility

This program is mandatory for new assistant prosecutors and Division of Criminal Justice deputies hired after October 2023 who have been selected to attend by each county prosecutor's office and the Division of Criminal Justice. Other assistant prosecutors and Division of Criminal Justice deputies are welcome to register.

Faculty

Kelly A. Testa is a Deputy First Assistant Prosecutor in the Camden County Prosecutor's Office. She is also the Section Chief of the Special Victims Unit, where she leads investigations involving crimes against children in Camden County. The unit handles crimes involving sexual and physical abuse and locates missing and runaway children. She was previously the head of the Trial Team and High-Tech Crimes Units. Since joining the Camden County Prosecutor's Office in 2001, Kelly has served in the Homicide, Shooting Response Team, Narcotics, Major Crimes, Domestic Violence, Motions, Juvenile, and Trial Team Units. Over her career, she has tried homicide, sexual assault, child abuse, child pornography, narcotics, aggravated assault, and weapons offenses cases. In 2014, she ran a wiretap investigation which led to the arrest of 40 people, including a police officer who was convicted after trial. She is also a legal advisor to police departments in Camden County. Kelly received a Bachelor's Degree in English and History from Rutgers

College, Rutgers University in New Brunswick and a Juris Doctor from Rutgers University School of Law – Camden.
