White Collar/Corruption Investigation & Prosecution

This three-day program is designed to train detectives on the numerous investigative techniques in white collar and/or corruption investigations. This course is specifically designed to train both experienced and inexperienced detectives in the filed of financial/white collar and/or corruption investigations. It will explore the common “red flags” that these types of cases present and the investigative options available to fully investigate them. It will also explore such topics as fraud, embezzlement, fraudulent disbursements, loan fraud, check fraud and kiting, ponzi schemes, bid rigging, kickback schemes, pyramid schemes, money laundering, bankruptcy fraud, misapplication of government resources, bribery, conflicts, insurance fraud, official misconduct, contract fraud, and pay-to-play laws. The course will review the investigative steps necessary to conduct historical and covert investigations; the use of the investigatory grand jury and subpoenas; provide guidance as to how to analyze financial documents such as bank records; and provide guidance as to how to organize “big document” cases. Finally, the course will update the law on these issues and provide guidance as to how to handle the unique issues associated with a high-profile corruption investigation/prosecution.

Dates: THIS CLASS WILL BE OFFERED IN 2020
