LAW AND PUBLIC SAFETY

OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Notice of Availability of Funds

FFY 2023 Federal Victims of Crime Act (VOCA)

Competitive Funds for New Jersey Trauma Recovery Center Program

Take notice that, in compliance with N.J.S.A. 52:14-34.4, the Department of Law & Public Safety (Department), Office of the Attorney General announces the availability of the following grant program funds:

a) Name of the Program: New Jersey Trauma Recovery Center Program (NJTRC)

This program is supported by the Federal Fiscal Year 2023 (FFY23) Victims of Crime Act (VOCA) Victim Assistance Grant Program.

b) Purpose:

The Office of the Attorney General (OAG) is committed to providing additional resources for victim services and to placing a particular emphasis on enhancing services to underserved victims in an effort to break the cycle of repeat victimization, and to save lives. OAG is also striving to bring resources to New Jersey's urban centers where violence has been concentrated historically.

The NJTRC grant program awards funding for TRCs to provide trauma-informed services to victims of crime within the communities where they live. Grantees will serve all victims of crime provided the services are consistent with this Notice of Available Funding (NOAF).

This solicitation intends to fund up to four (4) sites though may fund more sites if funding permits.

OAG will use the May 4, 2017 edition of the evidence-informed Trauma Recovery Center Manual developed by the University of California, San Francisco Trauma Recovery Center, when it selects, establishes, and administers TRC grants. All grant applications must demonstrate utilization of the San Francisco Trauma Recovery Center model in the administration of their TRC program.

c) Available Funding:

The State of New Jersey, Office of the Attorney General is making up to $3 million available to support the New Jersey Trauma Recovery Center Program (NJTRC). Site applicants may apply for a maximum of $750,000 per project for a 12-month grant period. The project period will begin April 1, 2024 and end on March 31, 2025. Only one application per applicant will be accepted. One year of continuation funding may be available, contingent upon the availability of federal funding, the subrecipient's compliance with grant conditions, and performance of its goals and objectives however, due to expected decreases in federal VOCA funding, additional funding after March 31, 2025 may not be available, and applicants should plan accordingly.

A match is not required however it is encouraged. Match shows the entity's commitment to the program and helps ensure sustainability of the needed services in the event of a reduction or loss of funds in the future.

Regardless of funding source, all subgrants will be awarded on a competitive basis pursuant to the quality of the application submitted. The number of awards available and the funding amount of each award will depend upon the number of applications received and the funding amounts requested by each applicant. Funding decisions will be made based on a variety of considerations, including but not limited to, the quality of the applications submitted, the type of initiatives to be implemented, population served, and the geographic distribution of the project.

The Department reserves the right to decline any and all applications for funding and to award grants in amounts that may be other than requested.

d) Organizations that May Apply for Funding Under this Program:

Eligible applicants for this program are limited to a local public agency or a non-profit organization, or a combination of such agencies or organizations or of both such agencies and organizations that have formed a partnership. Federally recognized tribal governments (as determined by the Secretary of the Interior); non-profit organizations (including hospitals and tribal non-profit organizations); faith-based and community-based organizations that serve crime victims; and public or non-profit colleges or universities (including tribal institutions of higher education) that demonstrate an understanding of the area of victimization, support services and the TRC model described in this solicitation are eligible to participate in the partnerships. Applicants must have the staff resources, capacity to develop or enhance programs proposed to address the area of victimization and/or services described in this solicitation, and the required partnerships.

Priority consideration will be given to those entities that can show a history of running a successful TRC program within the last 36 months. Applicants may demonstrate success in their current or past TRC programs through, for example, evidence of victims served, services offered, the delivery of customary community violence intervention services, the use of workers with appropriate experience and recognized training, as well as other indicators of success. These entities will receive an additional 10 points added to their final total score.

e) Qualifications Needed by an Applicant to be Considered for Funding: Where appropriate, all applicants must hold current professional and State licenses and certifications.

See below under (h) regarding the Basic Minimum Requirements associated with applications for this program. In addition, applicant agencies and victim assistance programs must meet all applicable statutory and regulatory VOCA program eligibility requirements found at 42 U.S.C. § 10603 and 28 C.F.R. Part 94. The Department reserves the right to decline any and all applicants who cannot demonstrate proof of compliance with VOCA program requirements.

Charitable organizations and professional fundraisers based, operating or soliciting within New Jersey must register with the Division of Consumer Affairs Charities Registration Section unless specifically exempted under the provisions of the Charitable Registration and Investigation Act, N.J.S.A. 45: 17A-18 et seq. An applicant may demonstrate non-profit status through inclusion in the application of any of the following documentation:

- (1) Exempt Organization Certificate from the New Jersey Department of Treasury;

The Federal Funding Accountability and Transparency Act (FFATA) of 2006 requires agencies to register with the System for Award Management (SAM), formerly the Central Contractor Registration (CCR), to receive a Unique Entity ID (UEI), for all entities applying for a federal award or subaward. The details of subrecipient or recipient obligations regarding “System for Award Management and Universal Identifier Requirements” are posted on the Office of Justice Programs web site at <http://www.ojp.gov/funding/explore/sam> , and are incorporated by reference here. Applicants must have a current UEI and SAM registration in order to be awarded and receive Federal grant funding. Successful applicants will be required to complete a FFATA form upon award.

- Offer training to law enforcement, community-based agencies, and other health care providers on the identification and effects of violent crime.

Additional Criteria:

- Participate in culturally relevant community outreach events to inform potential clients. Outreach plans must be tailored to reach the specific population(s) the TRC is seeking to serve.

- Provide regularly scheduled clinical supervision and other support to ensure the highest quality of care and to help staff manage vicarious trauma they may experience as service providers to victims of violent crime.

Direct Services: Specific clinical services provided by direct service staff shall include the following: client assessment and service planning; individualized psychotherapy; outpatient substance use disorder counseling; case management; legal advocacy; group psychotherapy and support groups; medication management; services provided by partners; and referrals to partner agencies, particularly at the close of TRC services.

Clinical Case Management:

General case management is a client-centered strategy to improve coordination and continuity of care, in particular for persons who have multiple needs. Various models of case management have been proven effective in the treatment of people with chronic mental illness, substance use disorders, or both. The clinical case management intervention embedded in the TRC model provides both the typical and active case management support of coordinating all the resources a client might need while also simultaneously using therapeutic interventions and delivering and coordinating services. Clinical case management takes into account that many clients have competing priorities and will benefit most when practical assistance and mental health interventions are simultaneously provided. In contrast, simply providing contact information for a community service is not enough for clients who have experienced trauma and have an array of psychosocial needs.

Evidence-Based Programs and Trauma-Informed Practices:

The TRC model utilizes evidence-based practices (EBPs) developed through research and with implementation shown to improve client outcomes. Applicants must clearly outline the integration of EBPs and trauma-informed practices into the proposed program.

Examples of evidence-based approaches and specific interventions appropriate for a TRC program include:

- Using a culturally sensitive trauma-informed approach. In this approach, clinicians are attuned to the client's identity, history, and how beliefs about psychotherapy may impact treatment engagement. Stigma about having a mental health issue, about being a victim, about receiving mental health services, or about taking psychotropic medication are culturally-mediated beliefs that should be recognized and addressed early in treatment.

- Addressing threats to safety in the client's environment and behavior. In this approach, clinicians address a client's safety concerns due to a risk of re-victimization and severe psychiatric symptoms by addressing continuous traumatic stress. The clinician focuses on helping the client reduce current threats to safety and well-being by providing case management assistance (e.g., moving to a safe location, obtaining a restraining order, making a police report) and safety planning.
- Addressing risk due to problems with regulation of emotions and impulses. In this approach, clinicians focus on therapeutic interventions on client emotions, reactions that put them at risk (for re-victimization, self-harm). Example interventions include dialectical behavior therapy (DBT), skills training in affective and interpersonal regulation (STAIR), Seeking Safety and motivational interviewing.
- Applicants should describe how their program will implement a model that is trauma informed in policy and practice. Some examples of trauma-informed models include the Sanctuary Model and the U.S. Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration's (SAMHSA) Trauma Informed Approach.

OAG may survey grantees to assess their knowledge of trauma-informed practices and implementation of these practices as part of a grant monitoring function. With periodic assessments, OAG can identify areas of strength and growth for adopting a trauma-informed approach to services that help to prevent re-traumatization.

Assessment Protocol:

Assessment is a core component of the TRC model. Client assessments aid in service delivery and help measure a client's progress in meeting goals. As a part of this grant, agencies will be required to engage in client assessments, which may include scales to measure trauma history, mental health, sleep, physical pain, quality of life, and client needs assessment.

f) Allowable and Unallowable Costs

The narrative may not exceed 20 pages. Applications that do not comply with the formatting guidelines may receive a reduction in application score, or not be considered for funding.

The following scored components MUST be included in the narrative for NJTRC Project Sites. Those applications that do not include ALL of the below scoring components may receive a reduction in application score, or not be considered for funding.

(1) Background, Mission, Experience, and Capability of Lead Applicant and Key Partners. (10 points)

Please describe in detail the applicant's mission, background and experience as it relates to the purpose and objectives of the proposed project. Explain the applicant and partners' knowledge and capability to carry out the project based on demonstrated experience in providing outreach and clinical services to crime victims who typically are unable to access traditional services.

(2) Problem Statement/Needs Assessment. (5 points)

The proposed project must provide outreach and services to crime victims who typically are unable to access traditional services, including the categories listed in Section e. Please identify the specific problem(s), types of victimization, and geographic area that the proposed project will address. Describe the needs and characteristics of the target population; local needs and conditions; describe existing services and identify gaps and/or barriers in services. Include current statistics and relevant facts to substantiate the need and selection of the proposed project.

(3) Project Leadership, Management, Staff, and Training. (15 points)

Please provide a staffing plan for a multidisciplinary team. Staff may be within a single agency or distributed among project partners. Remember that all clinicians must be either a licensed clinician or a master's-level supervised clinician engaged in completion of the applicable licensure process. Suggested positions include:

- Program director: This position oversees the entire program, manages relationships with other service providers, and can conduct trainings and provide supervision of direct service providers.

- Program coordinator: This position manages the day-to-day operations, supervises direct service staff and services, fosters inter-agency coordination, and conducts trainings.
- Clinical staff must include: at least one licensed psychologist on staff; at least one social worker and/or one licensed marriage and family therapist. Social workers or marriage and family therapists are all master's-level licensed clinicians or pursuing licensure. Team members have expertise or will acquire the necessary training to serve the target population of the TRC program.
- Psychiatrist for medication management and other therapeutic support.
- Project Evaluator: This position manages programmatic documentation, reports and statistics, assessment completion, and monitors services to ensure the TRC Core Elements are followed.
- Assertive outreach and peer support personnel. These non-clinical positions can assist in the identification, engagement, and facilitation of community resources, as well as provide on-going support to patients during the process. These positions can be used to ensure that patients' autonomy is thoroughly respected by clinical staff. These positions must be integrated into the team structure.

See San Francisco's TRC Program Model for an example of staffing structure and proposed trainings. Staff at the TRC should be thoroughly trained to address Cultural Responsiveness. Proposed programs should provide programs, services, and resources to meet the cultural and language preferences of the clients and families being served. Additionally, the program should offer training to help staff gain an understanding of biases, particularly how race and culture impact relationships, interactions, services, and outcomes.

(4) Proposed Program (30 points)

Demonstrate a clear and detailed understanding of the TRC model as described in the May 4, 2017 edition of the evidence-informed Trauma Recovery Center Manual, developed by the University of California, San Francisco Trauma Recovery Center and as described in (f) of this NOAF. Provide a description that walks through the program from client identification and engagement through case closure, highlighting how the TRC core elements are incorporated in the proposed program design. Provide strong details of the proposed program, highlighting victim types most commonly served in the hospital. Include whether the program will serve adults, minors, or both and the projected number to be served with justification for those numbers.

- Provide a clear assertive outreach and case management plan that ensures underserved or marginalized groups are served and includes services outside of the hospital. The recruitment strategy described should be responsive to community demographics and anticipated referral sources. Include clear and detailed client eligibility screening, intake, and assessment processes that are responsive to victimized persons. The response also should clearly describe the staff positions that will carry the outreach and engagement, including supervisory and coordinator staff where appropriate.
- Provide a clear and detailed description of proposed mental health and support services, incorporating how these services are comprehensive, structured, and evidence-informed. Demonstrate a clear understanding of the evidence-based, trauma-informed treatment modalities proposed. Clearly articulate services that the proposed program will not provide and where clients will be referred to meet their needs by providing assistance to obtain food, safe housing, financial entitlements, medical services, employment, and/or assistance working with police and other agencies. Applicants should plan for the housing needs of victims, both in the short and long term. Budgets should include, at a minimum, funding for emergency housing for victims who are not eligible for VCCO benefits (please see the VCCO website for further guidance: <https://www.njoag.gov/vcco/>). Include individual letters of commitment from all anticipated referral agencies.
- Provide a clear and detailed explanation of how psychotherapy and case management will be coordinated for victims within the TRC, including the role of clinical case and medication management. Describe how staff will carry out this work, including supervisory and coordinator staff where appropriate. Additionally, the response should include a description of how cases will be coordinated with referral agencies.

(5) Flow Chart describing the process of providing services to clients, from intake to discharge and identifying the single point of contact for the victim. (5 points)
