The New Jersey Academic Detailing Program

is an evidence-based, interactive and customized education program for all healthcare professionals in New Jersey who want to refine or remediate their opioid prescribing practices.

Trained program staff from Rowan-Virtua School of Osteopathic Medicine are available at no-cost to meet with healthcare professionals with opioid prescribing authority to assess individual prescriber needs, and needs of their practice, and then offer tailored, evidence-based clinical recommendations and education.

CME Credits are Available!
