

DIRECTIVE NO. 1 1992

Effective January 1, 1992, all temporary applications will expire thirty (30) days from the date of issue. If the licensee fails to complete and file the permanent application within the thirty (30) day period, the license fee paid at the time of temporary application will be forfeited. In order for the licensee to continue to participate after the thirty (30) day period expires they must file the permanent application along with the appropriate fee. Temporary applications will only be issued once per licensee.
