DIRECTIVE NO 1-2013

Distribution of Purse Money to Horsemen

Beginning on February 7, 2013, all biological samples collected from competing horses at New Jersey racetracks are being transmitted and tested by Truesdail Laboratory located in Tustin, CA. Due to the location of the testing laboratory and the current racing schedules, delays have occurred in the payment of purse monies to horsemen. In an effort to remedy this issue for the majority of horsemen, purse money may be paid by the horsemen's bookkeeper to horsemen 72 hours following the race, provided the horse was not subjected to post race testing. Payment of purse money to horsemen for horses that have been subjected to post race testing cannot be made until laboratory results are completed and payment is authorized by the State Steward.

BY ORDER OF THE NEW JERSEY RACING COMMISSION
EFFECTIVE IMMEDIATELY

Dated: March 18, 2013
