21	Identify the procurement method utilized for this program, describe the procurement process, and explain why the procurement method identified was used for this program.	The School Resource Officer (SRO) or school district identifies a vulnerability in high school substance abuse programming. They locate the exact system required—the Fatal Vision® Opioid Campaign Kit with the Real-Time Fatal Vision Simulation (RTFS) steering wheel and mat. The procurement officer drafts a formal written justification stating that the unique technical capabilities (e.g., goggles that black out to simulate "nodding off" synced to an interactive, vibrating steering wheel and sensor mat) are exclusively manufactured by Innocorp, LLC. No other vendor offers an equivalent hands-on simulation mechanism. Proprietary Technology & Patent Constraints: The "hands-on approach" featuring specific opioid impairment goggles that simulate divided attention failure and "nodding out", integrated with an interactive steering wheel and sensor-mapped guide mat, is a proprietary system patented and sold exclusively by Innocorp (Fatal Vision). True functional equivalence does not exist on the open market.

21	Identify the procurement method utilized for this program, describe the procurement process, and explain why the procurement method identified was used for this program.	The RFP method is selected for this specific program for several critical reasons: Value Over Lowest Price: Unlike a standard invitation for bids (IFB) which simply awards to the lowest price, an RFP allows the agency to prioritize quality, safety, and mentorship capability. In youth prevention programs, the effectiveness of the curriculum and the safety of the mentors are more important than finding the cheapest option. Complex, Non-Standardized Services: Youth mentorship and substance prevention cannot be bought like commodities (like office supplies or gravel). The program requires creative design, psychological safety, and specific coordination with public safety personnel, requiring a flexible proposal format. Demonstrated Experience: It allows the evaluation committee to heavily weigh the bidder's past performance, background check protocols, and experience working with at-risk youth and first responders.

Education of our public is a key ingredient in understanding substance misuse and prevention. 		face painting to children along with the prevention materials.
21	Identify the procurement method utilized for this program, describe the procurement process, and explain why the procurement method identified was used for this program.	Specialized Expertise & Proprietary Curricula: Many evidence-based substance misuse programs (like Safety First) are proprietary. A professional services or sole-source exception is required because a standard open-bid process cannot commoditize specialized public health education. Efficiency and Timeliness: Police National Night Out events happen on a fixed annual timeline. Utilizing small purchase or streamlined professional service methods allows the agency to bypass lengthy, multi-month public bidding processes, ensuring materials arrive before the event date. Cost-Effectiveness for Small Scales: The dollar amount required to fund an informational booth (printing pamphlets, purchasing drug deactivation bags, or hiring a local clinician for an evening) typically falls well below formal public bidding thresholds. Utilizing standard quotation or micro-purchase methods minimizes administrative burdens and reduces overhead costs.
22	If you would like to provide any additional details about this program not already included above, you may do so here.	This event is well attended each year and families are appreciative to learn and receive collateral pieces as takeaway items.

10	What were your subdivision's overarching goals and values in its use of opioid abatement funds during the current reporting period (7/1/2025 - 6/30/2026)?	During the reporting period of July 1, 2025 through June 30, 2026, the Township of Pemberton's overarching goal in the use of opioid abatement funds was to reduce the impact of opioid use and overdose within the community through prevention, education, harm reduction, community engagement, and connections to treatment and recovery resources. The Township prioritized a community-based and collaborative approach designed to reach residents across different ages, neighborhoods, and levels of need. Funding decisions were guided by the values of accessibility, prevention, public health, responsible stewardship, and partnership. Particular emphasis was placed on increasing awareness of the risks associated with opioid misuse, reducing stigma surrounding substance use disorders, promoting overdose prevention, and connecting individuals and families with available health, treatment, recovery, and supportive services. The Township also sought to incorporate opioid prevention and education into broader community health and wellness initiatives. Through collaboration among Township departments, public safety agencies, healthcare providers, community organizations, and other stakeholders, Pemberton Township worked to bring information and resources directly into the community and create opportunities for residents to engage with service providers in accessible and familiar settings. Additionally, the Township recognized that addressing the opioid crisis requires both immediate intervention and long-term prevention. Accordingly, its approach emphasized educating residents, strengthening community partnerships, expanding access to resources, supporting overdose prevention efforts, and developing sustainable programs that can contribute to improved health and wellness beyond the current reporting period. Ultimately, Pemberton Township's use of opioid abatement funds was guided by the goal of creating a healthier, better-informed, and more resilient community while ensuring that settlement funds were used responsibly and in a manner consistent with their intended purpose of addressing the impacts of the opioid epidemic.

11	Which official(s) were involved in deciding how to spend opioid abatement funds during the current reporting period (7/1/2025 - 6/30/2026)?	During the reporting period of July 1, 2025 through June 30, 2026, decisions regarding the use of opioid abatement funds were made through a collaborative process involving the Pemberton Township Mayor and Township Council, the Pemberton Township Police Department, and appropriate Township administrative officials and departments. These officials worked collectively to identify community needs, establish priorities, and determine appropriate uses of opioid abatement funding consistent with allowable purposes. Consideration was given to opioid prevention and education, Narcan (naloxone) and overdose response education, harm reduction, community outreach, public safety, and connections to treatment and recovery resources. The collaborative approach helped ensure that funding decisions reflected both the public health and public safety needs of Pemberton Township while maintaining responsible stewardship of opioid abatement funds.

The Pemberton Township Police Department, in collaboration with Township officials and several community organizations, relied upon recognized opioid prevention, overdose response, harm-reduction, education, and community outreach strategies. These approaches helped guide decisions regarding Narcan (naloxone) and overdose education, recognition of the signs and symptoms of an opioid overdose, appropriate emergency response, substance use prevention, and connecting individuals and families with available treatment, recovery, and supportive resources. The Township also incorporated community-based programming through the Pemberton Township Recreation, Parks & Senior Services Department as an important component of its overall prevention and outreach strategy. The Recreation Department provides an established connection to youth, families, adults, seniors, and other community members, allowing opioid prevention, health education, wellness initiatives, and resource information to be incorporated into programs and community events in accessible and familiar settings. Additionally, the Township worked with community organizations, healthcare and behavioral health providers, public safety agencies, prevention and recovery organizations, and other community partners to identify needs, share resources, provide educational opportunities, and connect residents with appropriate services. This collaborative and community-based approach allowed Pemberton Township to utilize opioid abatement funds in a manner that combined evidence-informed strategies with local knowledge and direct community engagement, while supporting prevention, overdose education, early intervention, treatment and recovery connections, and long-term community health and wellness.
