The goals and priorities for Hudson County continue to be to provide funding for critical support services for Hudson County residents who could potentially be impacted by the opioid epidemic and those who have already been negatively impacted. A survey was previously disseminated to the public to garner their input (translated to other languages as necessary) but responses were very low so the survey will be distributed again. The County has also recently engaged in a fair and open competitive process by release of a Request for Proposal for the following areas: Provider Capacity Assessment in Relation to Opioid/Substance Misuse, Public Education/Awareness Campaign Relative to Opioid/Substance Misuse and Opioid/Substance Misuse Community Outreach and Engagement. The County aims to assess how existing substance use providers may enhance or expand services to support Hudson County residents while also educating the public on the dangers of opioids. 4	What is the primary problem being addressed by this program?	Prevention and Education

5	Briefly describe the program's purpose and key activities.	We want the community to better understand opioid use and be prepared to respond. To support this goal, we held CPR training classes that help participants recognize warning signs and respond appropriately. We also used funds to purchase trauma kits for Hoboken First Responders to treat life threatening injuries such as severe bleeding, collapsed lungs and/or blocked airways. Furthermore, we used the funds to replace an outdated printer to support administrative duties.

13	What is the intended impact of this program?	The intended impact is to get as many people trained in the Hoboken community. Immediate CPR can significantly improve survival in cardiac arrest emergencies. In overdose cases, rapid intervention with CPR and naloxone may keep the person alive until advanced medical care arrives.
14	Which key performance indicators are you tracking to ensure success of the program? List all that apply, including, but not limited to, the following:
	Number of participants served:	43
	Number of training/education sessions:	2

CPR courses often teach how to identify warning signs such as unresponsiveness, slow or absent breathing, blue lips or skin, and gasping sounds.

These skills can make the difference between life and death during a drug overdose.
21	Identify the procurement method utilized for this program, describe the procurement process, and explain why the procurement method identified was used for this program.	The City of Hoboken works closely with the Volunteer Ambulance Corps, which provides training such as CPR. We requested a quote from them and submitted it to the Purchasing Department for approval. After the class is conducted, we submit the invoice and purchase order to the Purchasing Department for payment. Research has consistently shown that community-based naloxone education and distribution programs are effective in reducing opioid overdose fatalities and increasing bystander intervention during overdose events.

21	Identify the procurement method utilized for this program, describe the procurement process, and explain why the procurement method identified was used for this program.	The planning team for this event established the program goals and identified the vendors and resources needed to ensure a successful event. The fiscal team was also informed of the proposed expenditures to ensure that all costs were aligned with the allowable cost guidelines. Once approvals were received from both departments, purchase orders were issued. Following the completion of services, vendors submitted invoices, which were reviewed and processed for payment. This procurement process ensures appropriate oversight, fiscal accountability, and compliance with organizational policies, and it is the procedure we intend to follow for all future service procurements.

10	What were your subdivision's overarching goals and values in its use of opioid abatement funds during the current reporting period (7/1/2025 - 6/30/2026)?	The subdivision remained committed to a comprehensive, evidence-based, public health approach to opioid abatement. The overarching goals and values are to reduce opioid-related overdoses and associated harms by expanding access to lifesaving resources, increasing community knowledge & awareness, reducing stigma surrounding substance use disorder, and strengthening pathways to treatment, recovery, and supportive services. The subdivision's efforts emphasize meeting individuals where they live; through compassionate, nonjudgmental, and culturally responsive harm reduction practices, while ensuring that education, prevention, and intervention resources were readily accessible throughout the community. Opioid abatement funds continue to be used to build a sustainable infrastructure, that supports both immediate overdose prevention and long-term community wellness. Throughout this reporting period, the subdivision focused on expanding community access to harm reduction supplies through the planning, designing, implementing, and the promotion of publicly accessible kiosks stocked with naloxone, wound care supplies, hygiene products, and other overdose prevention resources & information. The kiosks are designed to provide free, low-barrier access to essential supplies, while increasing visibility and awareness of available services of the kiosk's hub. There have been (555) naloxone kits, (70) wound care kits, (60) hygiene kits, (610) fentanyl test strips and (610) xylazine test strips distributed thus far. The subdivision expects these numbers to continue to increase as the number of kiosks increases and more residents become aware of this resource. Recognizing that education is a critical component of opioid abatement, the subdivision developed and distributed numerous educational materials, including one-page resources, covering overdose prevention, signs and symptoms of substance use disorder, overdose response, emerging & trending substances, and available community resources. These materials were distributed digitally and/or printed in English and Spanish, to maximize community outreach. Media and public awareness campaigns were another cornerstone of our strategy. Throughout the year, the subdivision created and disseminated educational social media content, informational graphics & one-pagers, public service announcements, and digital outreach campaigns designed to increase awareness of overdose prevention, reduce stigma, promote naloxone access, and encourage individuals to seek support and treatment. These efforts extended the reach of opioid abatement programming beyond traditional in-person services and into the broader community. Through multiple media campaigns regarding emerging substances, overdose trends, and PSAs with media impressions reaching over 30,000 people! Community engagement remained a central value throughout the reporting period. The subdivision coordinated and/or participated in a number of health fairs, resource fairs, community walks, outreach events, and public education initiatives, providing overdose prevention education & training, harm reduction supplies, naloxone distribution, referrals to treatment and recovery services, and direct engagement with residents. These events strengthened partnerships with local organizations while increasing awareness of available harm reduction services in the community. Finally, the subdivision seeks to create a coordinated and sustainable opioid abatement strategy that improves health outcomes, saves lives, and strengthens the overall well-being of the residents of the City of Union City. This is attributed to every activity being a commitment to collaboration, accessibility, and continuous improvement. By combining prevention, education, community outreach, public awareness campaigns, harm reduction infrastructure, and evidence-based interventions, the subdivision is certain this program will continue to be needed, providing positive outcomes, and being utilized by more of the community as services continue to expand.
