Pinelands Development Credit Bank

The Pinelands Development Credit (PDC) Bank is the processing agency for the Pinelands Development Credit Program, one of the oldest and most successful transfer of development rights (TDR) programs in the world.

The PDC Bank plays a key role in helping to protect agricultural and environmentally sensitive land, while working with landowners to promote appropriate economic development in the Pinelands Area. To date, 58,082 acres have been permanently protected through the PDC Program.

Since its inception in 1985, the Bank has helped Pinelands property owners who wish to sell (or “sever”) the credits from their land and preserve it in perpetuity. Developers buy and use PDCs in order to build their residential projects at higher densities in designated Regional Growth Areas, thereby promoting efficient use of land and preventing sprawl.

The PDC Bank is governed by a nine-member Board of Directors. Among its responsibilities, the Bank issues PDC certificates that enable transferable development rights to be bought and sold; tracks the sale, purchase and redemption of PDCs to ensure that accurate records of all transactions are maintained; and provides information to people about opportunities to buy and sell PDCs, including recent sales prices and contact information for interested buyers and sellers.

Executive Summary: Fiscal Year 2024

The PDC Bank has concluded another productive and successful year of operation. (In this report, “fiscal year” indicates the 12-month period beginning on July 1st of the previous calendar year and ending on June 30th of the identified calendar year.)

During Fiscal Year 2024, the number of PDCs allocated by the Pinelands Commission was lower than the number allocated during Fiscal Year 2023. However, PDC severance activity was higher than the previous year, resulting in the permanent protection of 465.02 acres. Continuing a trend over the first half of this decade, this aspect of the program remains more active than in the previous decade. More PDCs were severed in Fiscal Year 2024 than in any single fiscal year during the 2010s.

State and County farmland preservation programs saw limited activity in PDC sending areas during Fiscal Year 2024, preserving an additional 30.19 acres of farmland in Tabernacle Township and 43.44 acres of farmland in Shamong Township.

Compared to the previous 12-month period, Fiscal Year 2024 saw slightly more PDC sales transactions, which consisted mostly of first-time sales. Concurrently, the total number of PDCs sold increased slightly, and the average number of PDCs sold per transaction decreased slightly relative to Fiscal Year 2023. The average sales price for PDCs increased moderately since the previous year. After adjusting for inflation, the real cost of PDCs in Fiscal Year 2024 was higher than in the ten years preceding Fiscal Year 2022. The total of all sales transactions this year equaled $2,222,000.00.

Fiscal Year 2024 witnessed fewer applications redeeming PDCs than the previous year, and a decrease in the total number of PDCs redeemed. For historical context, the level of activity surrounding PDC redemptions remains notably higher in recent years than in the years immediately following the Great Recession of 2008. The number of approved development projects using PDCs continued its steady increase in Fiscal Year 2024. Meanwhile, the PDC Sellers List changed very little in the past year; the total number of PDCs available for purchase and the number of PDC certificates available for purchase both increased slightly.

Pinelands Development Credit Sending Areas

At their most fundamental level, all transfer of development rights programs have two components: “Sending Areas,” from which development rights are transferred or “sent,” and “Receiving Areas,” in which development rights are applied or “received.” As a rule, sending areas are the spatial locations in which additional development is discouraged or minimized, whether to protect critical natural resources, to preserve the rural character of a particular area, to encourage preservation of undeveloped lands, to facilitate continued agricultural use, or some combination thereof. Conversely, receiving areas are those where existing environmental, developmental, and infrastructural conditions are conducive to additional and more intensive land development. In practice, the societal pressures that would contribute to unfettered, uniform land development are channeled away from sending areas and to receiving areas, where development can appropriately occur at higher densities. In the Pinelands Area, sending areas are defined at N.J.A.C. 7:50-5.43(b) and correspond to three discrete Pinelands Management Areas: the Preservation Area District (PAD), the Agricultural Production Area (APA), and the Special Agricultural Production Area (SAPA). These three management areas are shown on the Pinelands Land Capability Map in mint green, brown, and medium green, respectively.

Pinelands Development Credit Receiving Areas

As with sending areas, PDC receiving areas are defined by State regulation at N.J.A.C. 7:50-5.28. Unlike the sending areas, the receiving areas are comprised of just one Pinelands Management Area: the Regional Growth Area (RGA). These regions are shown in orange on the Pinelands Land Capability Map. RGAs encompass approximately 77,500 acres across five Pinelands counties and 24 municipalities, 22 of which contain PDC receiving areas.

Although not common, PDCs may also be used outside the RGAs. This occurs most often in association with waivers of strict compliance granted by the Pinelands Commission.

Allocations

Property owners seeking to participate in the PDC Program must first request a Letter of Interpretation (LOI) from the Pinelands Commission. The LOI will determine how many development rights, if any, may be “allocated” to the property. LOIs remain in effect for five years after their issuance.

In some cases, such as when an LOI expires, there may be multiple instances of PDC allocations to the same property over time. Table 1 displays the total number of rights allocated on an annual basis, and the total of all allocations since program inception. Also given is the total number of allocated rights that are still active.

As can be seen in Figure 1, the most active fiscal year for PDC allocations in the program’s history was 2001. That year, the number of rights allocated was more than three times the next highest fiscal year. This peak coincided with the institution of the Pinelands Direct Easement Purchase Program, a joint effort of the Commission and the State Agriculture Development Committee to purchase development easements on Pinelands farms. In order to be eligible, interested landowners were required to obtain PDC LOIs.

Generally, as will be seen in the following pages, the number of allocations and the number of rights allocated in a given fiscal year is positively correlated with market demand for, and average price of, PDCs.

TOTAL ACTIVE ALLOCATED RIGHTS: 12,176

- 1) One transferable development right equals one-quarter Pinelands Development Credit (PDC).
- 2) The number of allocations is equivalent to the number of Letters of Interpretation (LOIs) issued by the Pinelands Commission relative to PDC allocations.
- 3) The number of allocations per fiscal year may be overstated due to requests for amended LOIs.
- 4) Total Actual Rights Allocated is the current total of active allocations.
- 5) PDC allocations may include "fractional" allocations.
- 6) The number of PDCs allocated per fiscal year is rounded to the nearest quarter credit.

Severances

Once a property owner has received a PDC allocation, they may choose to formally separate the development credit(s) from the property. This process is known as “severance” and culminates in the permanent deed restriction of the property in question. Once the deed restriction is recorded, the PDC Bank issues the property owner one or more PDC Certificates, which can then be sold, transferred, or redeemed. Table 2 shows the severances that occurred during this fiscal year.

As seen in Table 3, there has been an increase in PDC severances in the sending areas to this point in the current decade (2020-2024) relative to the immediately preceding decade (2010-2019). PDCs were severed from a total of 465 acres during Fiscal Year 2024, 6 acres in the PAD, 56 acres in the APA, and 404 acres in the SAPA. To date, 57,713 acres have been preserved through the PDC severance process in the PAD, APA, and SAPA Pinelands Management Areas.

As can be seen in Tables 5 and 6, under certain circumstances PDC severances can occur outside of the designated sending areas. To date, 368 acres have been preserved through PDC severance in other Pinelands Management Areas.

In total, the number of acres preserved through the PDC Program stands at 58,082 acres as of June 30, 2024.

Other land preservation programs also operate within PDC sending areas. Table 7 shows the acres preserved in the sending areas to date through state and county farmland preservation programs. State acquisition for open space purposes is also common, particularly in the PAD. When a farmland preservation easement is purchased or land is acquired by the state, any PDCs allocated to the properties are considered extinguished and are no longer available for sale or redemption.

- 1) Numbers may not total due to rounding.
- 2) PDCs are not normally allocated to lands in the non-sending Pinelands management areas listed above. However, the Commission may do so in special cases.
- 3) Acres preserved in the Forest Area (FA), Rural Development Area (RDA), Pinelands Villages, and Pinelands Towns were part of larger parcels partially located in PDC sending areas, from which PDCs were severed. Landowners sometimes elect to deed-restrict their entire parcels, rather than just the acreage in the PDC sending areas.
- 4) Acres preserved in the Regional Growth Area (RGA) resulted from settlement agreements between the Pinelands Commission and the property owners.

Transactions

The PDC Bank maintains records of all sales of PDC certificates. This includes transactions involving both public and private parties, as well as first-time sales and subsequent sales (“resales”). Table 8 displays the 17 certificates that were sold during Fiscal Year 2024. Compared to the previous fiscal year, there were slightly more rights sold, and slightly more certificates changed hands.

Figure 3 portrays the number of development rights purchased for the first time in each fiscal year over the course of the PDC Program’s lifespan. The spike in activity during the early 2000s corresponds to the aforementioned high incidence of allocations in the same period, due to the Special PDC Purchase Program and Pinelands Direct Easement Purchase Program established in 1999 and 2001, respectively. As seen in Table 9, many development rights were purchased by public banks: the Burlington County Pinelands Development Credit Exchange in the 1980s and later by the PDC Bank itself. No PDCs have been purchased by public banks since 2002.

Figure 4 presents the number of development rights purchased through resales by private parties on an annual basis through the most recently concluded fiscal year. The spike in the late 1990s can be attributed to a relatively higher number of sales transactions in this period. The spike in the late 2010s, however, can be attributed to a relatively higher number of rights sold per transaction.

As seen in Figure 5, the PDC Program saw its highest level of sales activity in the late 1990s through the mid-2000s. After a decrease in the late 2000s, sales activity began trending upward in Fiscal Year 2015. Fiscal Years 2023 and 2024, however, saw a marked drop-off in this recent upward trend.

Generally, as will be seen in the coming exhibits, the amount of sales activity is positively correlated to the average sales price of PDCs. Conversely, there appears to be no such correlation of the average rights sold per transaction to either sales activity or sales price.

PDC sales prices are not determined by regulation, nor by PDC Bank policy. Instead, prices are negotiated by the individual parties participating in the transaction. As such, buyers and sellers of PDCs may consider any number of factors when negotiating, from market-wide trends in real estate, to personal needs and preferences. Table 11 shows how PDC sales prices have fluctuated over time using the annual range of prices, as well as two measures of central tendency: mean and median. It should be noted that gifts, nominal sales, and “non-arm’s length” transactions of PDCs are excluded from the contributing dataset so as to provide an accurate picture of the open market.

Figures 6A and 6B provide graphical portrayals of the mean and median price per development right over the past 25 fiscal years — the former being in actual dollars, and the latter being adjusted for inflation. (Inflation rate was calculated using Bureau of Labor Statistics data for the month of June of the indicated year.) Fiscal Year 2024 saw an increase in sales prices over the previous fiscal year, which came after a spike in Fiscal Year 2022. This occurred after prices had remained largely stable over the preceding decade. When adjusted for inflation, the current mean and median sales prices are shown to be slightly below the averages for this 25-year period (both about $19,400), and less than half those of the highs seen in the mid-2000s.

Encumbrances

Because PDCs are by definition assets, they may be utilized in other arrangements besides buying and selling. For example, a holder of a PDC certificate may elect to pledge that certificate as security or collateral for a loan. Table 12 lists all of the PDC certificates that are presently encumbered. Such certificates may not be sold or redeemed as long as they remain encumbered.

Redemptions

The use of PDCs may be required for a number of reasons: to increase a project’s residential density or nonresidential floor area; to facilitate development on an undersized, nonconforming lot; to allow for development of a non-permitted use; to satisfy the mandatory PDC provisions of a municipal ordinance or redevelopment plan; or to meet the conditions of a waiver of strict compliance approved by the Pinelands Commission. Some PDC redemptions are optional, such as when a developer elects to utilize the “bonus” density provisions of a municipal land use ordinance. Most other PDC redemptions are required by the CMP and/or a municipal ordinance. Once acquired, PDC Certificates must be transmitted to the PDC Bank and redeemed for a specific development project or application. The redemption process is the final step in the transfer of development rights from a sending area to a receiving area.

Table 13 accounts for all of the PDC redemptions that occurred during Fiscal Year 2024. The total number of PDCs redeemed in Fiscal Year 2024 was about half the number of PDCs redeemed in Fiscal Year 2023. PDCs were redeemed on 12 projects during Fiscal Year 2024, 11 of which were for residential projects of varying sizes and housing types. Figure 7 shows a breakdown of the number of units planned for each of these 11 projects. Five projects proposed only one residential unit. One project involved four residential units. The remaining five projects, deemed major development by the Pinelands Comprehensive Management Plan, ranged in size from five to 657 residential units.

One important concept illustrated by Table 13 is that a development project may redeem PDCs that originated from multiple properties and severances. For example, one project listed on the table, in Egg Harbor Township,

Above: 22.50 Pinelands Development Credits were redeemed for this mixed-use project in South Toms River Borough, Ocean County, in September 2021. The development includes 360 apartments, a hotel and retail establishments. Photo/Paul Leakan redeemed credits that were severed from lands in the townships of Pemberton, Hamilton, and Woodland. Conversely, in instances where multiple development rights are severed from a single property in a sending area, the Bank may issue multiple PDC certificates, thereby allowing those rights to be redeemed for multiple projects, potentially in several different receiving areas. The PDC Program operates on a regional basis; there is no requirement that PDCs severed in one municipality or county must be redeemed for development in that same municipality or county.

The map on page 32 corresponds to Table 13, providing the location of the 12 projects that redeemed PDCs during Fiscal Year 2024. All but two of these projects are located in Regional Growth Areas. The map on page 33 shows the location of all development projects for which PDCs have been redeemed since the inception of the PDC Program, grouped by decade. Not surprisingly, the majority are located in Regional Growth Areas (PDC receiving areas). PDCs redeemed on lands outside the Regional Growth Area most often involved Waivers of Strict Compliance, particularly in the decades prior to 2010.

Figure 8, a graphic of the number of development rights redeemed each fiscal year since 1984, presents a familiar profile: relatively little activity in the first decade, a crescendo of activity peaking in the early 2000s, followed by a lull in the years following the Great Recession, then a more recent peak. It can therefore be said that the number of PDC redemptions per year generally tracks both 1) the number of PDC transactions per year and 2) the average sales prices of PDCs.

Table 14A provides an overview of all approved development projects that have redeemed PDCs or are expected to do so in the immediate future, broken out by municipality. As expected, municipalities with the largest Regional Growth Areas – Egg Harbor and Hamilton townships in Atlantic County, Monroe Township in Gloucester County and Winslow Township in Camden County – have seen the most PDC redemption activity. Table 15A categorizes the reasons PDC redemption was required on these approved projects. Of the 4,705 development rights required for approved projects, more than half were needed to attain the bonus residential densities permitted in municipal ordinances, which is the traditional reason for PDC redemption.

Tables 14B and 15B are new to the report this year, and feature projects that are considered “active” as of the end of Fiscal Year 2024. Such projects include applications that have been completed with the Commission that (1) do not yet have municipal approvals or (2) obtained municipal approvals that have not yet been allowed to take effect due to inconsistencies with the Pinelands Comprehensive Management Plan. All projects included on these tables have outstanding PDC obligations, and all have meaningful application activity in the preceding five years. Table 14B indicates how these active projects are distributed among Pinelands Area municipalities. Projects in just four municipalities – Egg Harbor, Hamilton, Jackson and Winslow townships – account for nearly 75% of the required PDCs. Table 15B categorizes the reasons PDC redemption is required on these active projects. Notably, 478 development rights, 68% of total, are required in zoning districts or redevelopment areas where the use of PDCs is mandatory based on municipal ordinances.

In the last 20 years, nearly half of all redeemed PDCs have been used in association with single family residential development. Multi-family development (e.g., townhouses, condominiums, apartments) and mixed-use development (e.g., mixed housing types and/or a mixture of residential and nonresidential uses) each account for approximately 20 percent of PDC redemptions during that same time period. Trends beyond the general level of activity in a given year are not as easily discerned, but it can be noted that multi-family development has become more common in the last 14 years, reflecting broader market trends (see Figure 9). In Fiscal Year 2024, seven of the 11 residential projects for which PDCs were redeemed involved only single family homes. The remaining four projects proposed townhouses, apartments or a mixture of multi-family and single family dwelling units.

PDCs REDEEMED BY DEVELOPMENT TYPE PER FISCAL YEAR (2005-2024)

- 1) Fiscal year totals reflect the dates on which certificates were redeemed at the PDC Bank and may not reflect previously reported annual figures.
- 2) Mixed Use includes projects comprised of mixed housing types and/or a mixture of residential and nonresidential uses.
- 3) Other refers to nonresidential uses, including commercial, industrial, and institutional uses.

PDC Holders

PDCs may be severed and held by individuals, corporations, or other entities. The PDC Bank maintains a publicly available list of all holders of PDC certificates who are willing to make their certificates available for purchase. This “Sellers List,” sorted by certificate number and showing 108 certificates totaling 104.50 PDCs available for purchase at the end of Fiscal Year 2024, is presented in Table 16. The PDC Bank also maintains a separate list of all PDC holders who do not wish to publicize their certificates for purchase. As of June 30, 2024, the “Non-Sellers List” accounted for 153 certificates totaling 208.50 PDCs.
