

Application to Become Designated a Qualified Organization

Guidelines

What is the New Jersey Cultural Trust?

Established by The New Jersey Cultural Trust Act (N.J.S.A. 52:16A-72 et seq.), the Trust was created to build a permanent, stable, and additional source of funding to support private, non-profit arts, history, and humanities organizations. The Trust's purpose is to help build endowments, create institutional stability, and fund capital projects.

What does it mean to become designated a "qualified organization"?

The New Jersey Cultural Trust Board votes to designate organizations as "qualified." This means that the Board has determined that the organization meets the requirements set forth in the Act to participate in and benefit from the Cultural Trust programs.

Why should I apply to become designated a qualified organization by the Cultural Trust?

Designation as a qualified organization is required to take advantage of funding opportunities provided by The New Jersey Cultural Trust. You can learn more about the Cultural Trust's funding opportunities by visiting the Cultural Trust's website.

What are the requirements and eligibility criteria to become designated a qualified organization?

To become designated a qualified organization, an organization must complete the following application and submit it to the Cultural Trust for consideration. The Trust reserves the right to require any additional information needed to make the determination.

In order to become qualified, an organization must meet the following criteria:

- Be a separately incorporated non-profit organization
- Be tax-exempt under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986
- Be incorporated and operating for at least four consecutive years prior to applying
- Have a primary mission to promote the performing, visual and creative arts in New Jersey or to promote or preserve New Jersey history and humanities in New Jersey
- Be in good standing with NJ Charities Registration and Division of Revenue filings

What types of organizations are not eligible to become qualified by the Cultural Trust?

Private, State, county, or municipal colleges and universities are not eligible. State, county, or local governmental units, authorities or corporations created by such units and "qualifying governmental bodies" as defined in N.J.S.A. 52:16A-26.2 are not eligible.

How long does the designation as a qualified organization last? Does my organization ever need to reapply?

Once designated a qualified organization, the status lasts for three years. After the three years elapses, the organization must reapply for qualification. The process to renew qualification is identical to the process for initial qualification.

How do I apply to become qualified?

Complete the following application form and include all of the required supplemental documentation. Be sure to complete and enclose the submission checklist. Mail the form and all attachments to the New Jersey Cultural Trust. Faxes, e-mails, and other digital formats are not acceptable submissions. All materials must be mailed. The outer envelope of the submission should be clearly labeled, "Qualification Application."

Is there a deadline to apply to become qualified?

Applications for designation as a "qualified organization" will be accepted on a rolling basis and will be forwarded to the Cultural Trust Board for its consideration at the first available opportunity. Cultural Trust grant programs do require applicants to become qualified before the grant deadline. In the case of an impending grant deadline, the final opportunity for organizations to become qualified ahead of the grant deadline will be publicized in the grant guidelines.

What happens if I submit an incomplete application?

Due to the high volume of submissions, only applications that are complete and meet core eligibility criteria will be presented to the Cultural Trust Board for consideration. Cultural Trust staff will notify applying organizations of missing or incomplete materials, and provide a reasonable opportunity for applicants to supply or complete the materials in question. An incomplete application must be completed no later than six months after the date the Cultural Trust first received it. After six months, an application that remains incomplete will be deemed ineligible for consideration. At or after that time, the organization may submit a new application, with all required attachments, for consideration.

How do I ask questions about the qualification process or the New Jersey Cultural Trust?
