New Barbadoes Lap By Henry Berry Apepo

A decorative flourish or calligraphic element, possibly a signature or a decorative initial, rendered in dark ink on aged paper. The design features two thick, horizontal, slightly wavy strokes. From the upper stroke, several thin, elegant, looping lines extend upwards and outwards, forming a series of overlapping loops and swirls. Similarly, from the lower stroke, thin, looping lines extend downwards and outwards, mirroring the style of the upper flourishes. The overall effect is one of graceful, fluid movement. The ink is dark, and the paper shows signs of age, including some light staining and a slightly textured surface.
