Did you know that March is Colon Cancer Awareness Month? Getting screened regularly is one of the best ways to prevent colon cancer. A screening can help find cancer even if you have no symptoms. And a colonoscopy isn’t the only test available. There are some you can do at home.

Even if you have no family history of colon cancer, you should get a screening starting at 45 years old. If you’re African American, your risk is greater. Talk to your doctor about when to start getting screened for colon cancer.

You may be eligible for any of the preventive screening tests below at no cost with an in-network provider.
