New Jersey Earned Income Tax Credit (NJEITC)

Q. What is the NJEITC?

A. The New Jersey Earned Income Tax Credit (NJEITC) is a credit for certain residents who work and have earned income. The credit reduces the amount of New Jersey tax you owe and may also give you a refund, even if you have no tax liability to New Jersey.

If you are eligible for a Federal earned income credit, you may also be eligible for the NJEITC.

Q. Who is eligible for the NJEITC?

A. You are eligible for the NJEITC if you meet all the following conditions:

- Federal earned income credit. You are eligible, and you apply for the Federal earned income credit; and
- Qualifying child. You file a Federal Schedule EIC on which you list at least one "qualifying child"; and
- Filing status. The filing status you use on both your Federal return and your New Jersey return is either married filing joint return, head of household, or qualifying widow(er); and
- New Jersey gross income. Your New Jersey gross income for the entire year from all sources is $20,000 or less.

NOTE: If your filing status is single or married, filing separate return, you may not claim the NJEITC.

New Jersey Earned Income Tax Credit (NJEITC)

Q. How is the NJEITC calculated?

A. The NJEITC is a percentage of your Federal earned income credit.

The amount of your NJEITC for tax year 2006 will be equal to 20% of your Federal earned income credit. For example, if your Federal earned income credit is $3,000, the amount of your NJEITC will be $600. (2006 NJEITC = Federal EIC × 20%)

NOTE: Part-year residents who meet the eligibility requirements qualify for the NJEITC provided their gross income for the entire year from all sources is $20,000 or less. The amount of the credit must be prorated based on the number of months you were a New Jersey resident.

Q. How do I receive the NJEITC?

A. To receive the NJEITC, you must file a New Jersey resident income tax return. This is true even if you are not required to file a return because your income is below New Jersey's minimum filing threshold. The minimum filing threshold for 2006 is $20,000 or less if your filing status is married filing joint return, head of household, or qualifying widow(er).

Complete the Earned Income Tax Credit Schedule to calculate the amount of your New Jersey credit. If you asked the Internal Revenue Service to calculate your Federal earned income credit you must indicate that on your New Jersey return. The IRS will provide information about your Federal credit to the Division of Taxation in October 2007 after which a check for your NJEITC will be issued.

To apply for the NJEITC, file your New Jersey resident income tax return using one of the following:

- Form NJ-1040 — resident return
- NJ WebFile — file by computer
- Electronic filing — available through tax professionals or certain tax preparation software
