Part-Year Residents and Nonresidents

Understanding Income Tax

This bulletin explains:

1. Determining your residency;
2. Your tax responsibilities;
3. How to complete a part-year New Jersey Income Tax return; and
4. When a part-year resident must file both resident and nonresident Income Tax returns.

Determining Residency

For Gross Income Tax residency determination issues regarding a military service member and their spouse, New Jersey follows the federal Servicemembers Civil Relief Act, 50 U.S.C. § 3901, et seq, which includes the Military Spouses Residency Relief Act and Veterans Auto and Education Improvement Act of 2022. If you are not a current military service member and/or the spouse of an active service member, your residency is determined by where you were domiciled during the tax year. If you moved in to or out of New Jersey for part of the year, you are a part-year resident and may need to file a resident tax return to report the income received for the period you resided here. If you are not domiciled in New Jersey, but received income from sources within New Jersey, you may need to file a nonresident tax return. Income from sources within New Jersey for a nonresident individual means the income from the categories of gross income enumerated and classified under chapter 5 of the New Jersey Gross Income Tax Act to the extent that the income is earned, received or acquired from sources within New Jersey.

Domicile is the place and state you consider your permanent home — the place where you intend to return after a period of absence (e.g., vacation, business assignment, educational leave).

You have only one domicile, although you may have more than one place to live. Your domicile continues until you establish a new permanent home elsewhere.

The Division considers many factors when determining if New Jersey is your domicile, including:

- Your intent;
- Where you register to vote;
- Your driver's license and vehicle registration;
- Where you have family ties;
- Whether your federal tax return lists New Jersey as a home address;
- Location of bank accounts;
- Whether you participated in a New Jersey property tax relief program.

Part-Year Residents and Nonresidents

Understanding Income Tax

Permanent Home means a residence that you maintain permanently as your principal residence (main home), whether or not you own it.

Your home is not considered permanent if you maintain it only during a temporary period of time to accomplish a specific purpose (e.g., temporary job assignment). There are, however, specific guidelines for military personnel (see Military Personnel and Families).

If New Jersey is your domicile, you are considered a resident for New Jersey tax purposes, unless:

1. You did not maintain a permanent home in New Jersey;
2. You maintained a permanent home outside New Jersey; and
3. You did not spend more than 30 days in New Jersey.

If New Jersey is not your domicile, you are only considered a resident if you maintain a permanent home and spend more than 183 days here.

Income Filing Threshold

Your residency status and income determine whether you are required to file a New Jersey Income Tax return. You are responsible for New Jersey Income Tax, and must file, if your gross income exceeds the following:

Filing Thresholds

Filing Status	In-State and Out-of-State Gross Income for the Entire Year
Single Married/CU Partner Filing Separate Return	$10,000
Married/CU Couple Filing Joint Return Head of Household Qualifying Widow(er)/Surviving CU Partner	$20,000

You do not have to file a New Jersey return under the following circumstances: You received no income during the part of the year you were a resident, and you had no New Jersey source income during the part of the year you were a nonresident.

Part-Year Residents and Nonresidents

Understanding Income Tax

Part-Year Resident or Part-Year Nonresident

If you change your domicile and meet the definition of a resident or nonresident for only part of the year, you are a resident for part of the year (part-year resident) and a nonresident for the remainder of that year (part-year nonresident).

Filing Requirements

Your filing status and gross income determine whether you have to file a New Jersey Income Tax return. Anyone who meets the income requirements must file.

See Who Must File to find out whether you are required to file.

Part-year residents must use Form NJ-1040 and indicate the period of their New Jersey residency. The return should show only the income received during that period. Likewise, part-year nonresidents must use Form NJ-1040NR and indicate the period of time they were residents.

If you received income from New Jersey sources during both your residency and nonresidency periods, you must file both a NJ-1040 and a NJ-1040NR. You must report the income you received during the time you were a resident on your resident return. Report the income received while you were a nonresident on your nonresident return.

Examples

1. A taxpayer was a New Jersey resident from January 1 through December 31. They file a full-year resident return showing the income they received that year.
2. Two married taxpayers were New Jersey residents from May 1 to December 31. They had no New Jersey income prior to becoming residents. They must file a part-year resident return and report the income they received during their period of residency (May to December).
3. A taxpayer was a full-year resident of New York who worked in New Jersey from July through November. They file a full-year nonresident return because they were a nonresident for the entire year. Their New Jersey nonresident return will show the income they received during the period they were a nonresident (i.e., January to December).
4. A taxpayer worked in New Jersey for the entire year. From January 1 to March 31, they were a New Jersey resident. From April 1 to December 31, he was a Delaware resident. They must file two New Jersey Income Tax returns:

Part-Year Residents and Nonresidents

Understanding Income Tax

- A part-year resident return showing the income they received during the three months they were a New Jersey resident; and
- A part-year nonresident return showing their income during the period they were a nonresident of New Jersey.

Both Part-Year Resident and Nonresident

If you were a resident for part of the year, you were a nonresident for the remainder of that year. File part-year resident and/or nonresident returns as follows:

- You must file both a part-year resident return and a part-year nonresident return if:
 - Your gross income from all sources (both in-state and out-of-state) for the entire year was more than the filing threshold amount (see chart on page 3);
 - You received income (whether from New Jersey sources or not) during the part of the year you were a resident; and
 - You received any amount of income from New Jersey sources during the part of the year you were a nonresident.
- File a part-year resident return if:
 - You received income during the part of the year you were a resident; and
 - Your income for the entire year is over the filing threshold (see chart).
- File a part-year nonresident return if:
 - You received income from New Jersey during the part of the year you were a nonresident; and
 - Your income for the entire year is over the filing threshold (see chart).

Examples

1. A single taxpayer was a resident of California for 10 months and a resident of New Jersey for two months. Their income as a California resident totaled $23,000, and the income they received during the two months they were a resident of New Jersey was $2,900. The taxpayer is subject to tax on the $2,900 they received as a New Jersey resident because their income from everywhere for the entire year was more than the $10,000 filing threshold amount.

Part-Year Residents and Nonresidents Understanding Income Tax

2. A single taxpayer was a New Jersey resident from January through September, when they moved to Florida and became a resident there. Their income as a resident totaled $5,800, and their income while a Florida resident was $600. The taxpayer is not required to file a return, and they owe no New Jersey Income Tax on the $5,800 because their income from everywhere for the entire year was less than the $10,000 filing threshold amount. However, the taxpayer must file a part-year resident return to claim any refund of New Jersey Income Tax that was either withheld or remitted through estimated payments.

When they file their New Jersey return, they must also enclose a copy of their federal income tax return. If they did not file a federal return, they must enclose an informal statement – written, signed, and dated by them – to certify that their income for the year was less than $10,000.

How Residents and Nonresidents Are Taxed

Residents

Residents are subject to tax on their income from all sources, whether the income is from inside or outside New Jersey. As a part-year resident, your resident return must include all income you received during the time you were a resident. Married/civil union couples filing jointly must report the income of both spouses.

Part-year residents must prorate all of their exemptions, deductions, and credits, in addition to pension and other retirement income exclusions, to reflect the time period covered by their return. (In this publication, prorate means to allocate proportionally over a set time period.) See Completing a Part-Year Resident Return.

For more information on completing the resident return, see instructions for Form NJ-1040.

Nonresidents

For nonresidents, New Jersey Income Tax liability is based on the percentage of their total income that comes from New Jersey. The income section of the nonresident return has two columns:

1. Column A, income from everywhere, in which you report total income from all sources (both inside and outside New Jersey combined); and
2. Column B, income from only New Jersey sources.

Pennsylvania residents, see page 24.

As a nonresident, you must calculate your tax on income from all sources as if you were a resident, and then prorate your tax based on your New Jersey source income.

Part-Year Residents and Nonresidents

Understanding Income Tax

For more information on completing the nonresident return, see instructions for Form NJ-1040NR.

Nonresident service members

You are not required to include your military pay on the New Jersey nonresident return. This is in accordance with federal legislation (Service members Civil Relief Act, P.L. No. 108-189). Do not report military pay in Column A or Column B of Form NJ-1040NR.

Income you receive as a nonresident from New Jersey sources other than military pay is taxable.

In addition, under the federal Military Spouses Residency Relief Act (P.L. 111-97), a military service member's nonmilitary spouse who meets certain requirements is allowed to keep a tax domicile while moving from state to state. Under the Act, a qualified civilian spouse is considered a nonresident and is not subject to New Jersey Income Tax on wages earned in New Jersey. Nonresident civilian spouses are subject to tax on all other types of income from New Jersey sources, such as a gain from the sale of property.

Military, see Military Personnel and Families.

Completing a Part-Year Resident Return

- Enter your New Jersey residency period above line 1;
- Report income, withholdings, and payments for the period of New Jersey residency only;
- Prorate exemptions, deductions, exclusions, and credits based on residency period;
- If you also complete a part-year nonresident return, allocate your income, withholdings, and payments between the two returns as appropriate.

Part-year residents, provide months/days you were a New Jersey resident during 2024:

From: / 2 4 To: / 2 4

Fiscal year filers only:

Enter month of your year end 2025

- 1. NJ Residency Status. Show the beginning and ending dates of your residency period. If you were a resident for 15 days or more of a month, that month counts as a month of residence. So, if you were a resident from January 27 to July 21, you were a resident for six months.

a. Retirement/Pension Exclusion (line 28a). This is only available if your entire income for the year was $150,000 or less. If your income for the entire year is between $0 and $100,000, prorate the maximum exclusion amount from this chart based on the number of months you were a New Jersey resident. See the example on the next page. If your income for the entire year is over $100,000, do not prorate the exclusion amount. See instructions for Form NJ-1040.

Part-Year Residents and Nonresidents

Understanding Income Tax

If you and your spouse file a joint return, and only one of you is 62 or older or disabled, you can claim the full amount of the prorated exclusion. However, only the income of the one who is 62 or older or disabled can be excluded.

- b. Other Retirement Income Exclusion (line 28b). If you (and/or your spouse if filing jointly) were 62 or older on the last day of the tax year, you may qualify to exclude other income on line 28b.

There are two parts to the total exclusion:

1. Part I, the unclaimed portion of your prorated pension exclusion; and
2. Part II, a special exclusion for taxpayers who cannot receive Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits.

Prorating the Pension Exclusion:

$$\text{Total Pension Exclusion Amount} \times \frac{\text{Months of NJ Residence}}{12} = \text{Prorated Pension Exclusion Amount}$$

Example

A 65-year-old, single taxpayer who was a New Jersey resident for four months of the 2024 Tax Year prorates the pension exclusion amount like this:

$$$45,000 \times \frac{4}{12} = $15,000$$

Do not complete Worksheet D in the NJ-1040 instructions to calculate the total exclusion amount you are eligible to claim. Instead, use Worksheet E.

More Information. For more detailed information on pensions, annuities, and IRAs, see Retirement Income and Roth IRAs. For information on calculating your partnership and S corporation income, see Income From Partnerships and Income from S Corporations.

4. Exemptions. You must prorate the total exemption allowance amount (line 13) based on the number of months you were a resident. For this calculation, 15 days or more equals a full month. Use the formula below, and then enter the prorated exemption amount on line 30.

Prorating the Exemption Allowance:

$$\text{Line 13} \times \frac{\text{Months of NJ Residence}}{12} = \text{Prorated Exemption Amount}$$

New Jersey does not allow deductions for adjustments taken on the federal return, such as employee business expenses or IRA and Keogh Plan contributions.

Form NJ-1040	Enter amount from:
Line 41	Line 4, column A
Line 42	Line 5, column A

Part-Year Residents and Nonresidents Understanding Income Tax

6. Total Property Taxes (18% of Rent) Paid (line 40a). Enter the property taxes, or 18% of your rent, due and paid on your qualified principal residence (main home) while you were a resident.

Property Tax Deduction/Credit (line 41/line 56). Part-year residents may be eligible to claim a deduction (up to 100% of property taxes due and paid or up to $15,000, whichever is less) or a refundable credit (up to $50) for property taxes, or 18% of rent, due and paid during their residency period.

If you do not claim credit for taxes paid to another jurisdiction, complete Worksheet H to determine the property tax deduction and whether you should take the property tax deduction on line 41, Form NJ-1040 or the property tax credit on line 56.

If you claim credit for taxes paid to another jurisdiction, first complete lines 1 and 2 of Worksheet H, and then complete Schedule NJ-COJ and Worksheet I to make this determination. Enter on line 1 of Worksheet H the amount of property taxes, or 18% of rent due and paid, while you were a resident from line 40a, Form NJ-1040.

Complete the remainder of the worksheet according to the instructions. The maximum credit for a full-year resident is $50 (or $25 if you and your spouse file separate returns but lived together). You must prorate this amount based on the number of months you were a resident. For example, if you were a resident for nine months, you are eligible for a maximum credit of $37.50. After prorating, answer the question at line 8 of Worksheet H based on this prorated amount. This will determine whether you will receive a greater benefit by taking the property tax deduction or claiming the prorated credit.

More Information. For information on claiming credit for taxes paid to another jurisdiction, see Credit for Taxes Paid to Other Jurisdictions \(Wage Income\), and Credit for Taxes Paid to Other Jurisdictions \(Business/Nonwage Income\). 47. Gold Star Family Counseling Credit (See instructions).....47.

9. Gold Star Family Counseling Credit (line 47). This credit is for mental health care professionals who provided counseling through the Gold Star Family Counseling program. The amount of the credit is equal to the number of hours of counseling provided through the program (a minimum of 20 hours and a maximum of 40 hours per year) multiplied by the TRICARE rate for the service. The credit is nonrefundable and cannot reduce your Income Tax liability to an amount less than zero.

If you claim this credit, we will need to verify your eligibility. You will be asked to provide copies of the following:

- A statement with the number of counseling hours donated to Gold Star families in New Jersey along with the TRICARE rate for those counseling services; and
- A letter from the Gold Star Counseling Program verifying your participation; and
- A copy of your New Jersey State license from one of the following:
 - The State Board of Medical Examiners, the State Board of Psychological Examiners, the State Board of Social Work Examiners, the State Board of Marriage and Family Therapy Examiners, the Alcohol and Drug Counselor Committee, the Professional Counselor Examiners Committee, or the Certified Psychoanalysts Advisory Committee.

48. Credit for Employer of Organ/Bone Marrow Donor (See instructions).....48.

10. Credit for Employer of Organ/Bone Marrow Donor (line 48). If you are an employer who provided paid time off to an employee who missed work to donate an organ or bone marrow for transplantation, you may be able to claim a credit. The paid time off must have been in addition to any other paid time off for which the employee was entitled. If you qualify, you can take a credit of 25% of the employee's salary for up to 30 days of time missed from work for each donation.

You may be asked to provide documentation indicating that you are eligible to claim the credit, such as employee pay statements and a letter from a physician.

12. Tax Withheld/Property Tax Credit/Estimated Payments.

- a. Line 55. Enter the amount of New Jersey Income Tax withheld from wages you earned or other payments you received while you were a resident. If your employer combined wages you earned as a resident and wages you earned as a nonresident on the same W-2, allocate the New Jersey Income Tax withheld (box 17) between your part-year resident and part-year nonresident returns and enter only the tax withheld while you were a resident. If you did not earn any of the wages on the W-2 while a nonresident, report the total New Jersey tax withheld that is shown on the W-2.
- b. Line 56. Enter the amount of your prorated credit (if any).
- c. Line 57. Enter the amount of estimated payments to New Jersey for your period of residency. If you made estimated payments both as a resident and as a nonresident, enter on your part-year resident return the payment(s) made to meet the tax liability for your period of residency. Enter on the part-year nonresident return the payment(s) made to satisfy your tax liability during your non-residency period. Also enter any amounts paid to qualify for an extension of time to file.

13. New Jersey Earned Income Tax Credit (line 58). You must file Form NJ-1040 to receive a New Jersey Earned Income Tax Credit. Most residents who are eligible and file for a federal earned income credit can also receive a New Jersey credit equal to 40% of the federal benefit. Calculate the amount with this formula:

Federal earned income credit _____ $\times .4 =$ _____

Part-year residents must prorate the credit based on the number of months you were a resident.

If the IRS is calculating your federal credit, fill in the first oval below line 58, Form NJ-1040. The IRS is expected to provide clarifying information to the Division of Taxation. Please allow at least 90 days for the Division to process the information, after which the New Jersey Earned Income Tax Credit will be issued as part of your Income Tax refund.

Part-Year Residents and Nonresidents Understanding Income Tax

- 2. Income. Complete both Columns A and B, lines 15 to 27. Include only income you received while a nonresident. Report in Column A income from all sources (both inside and outside New Jersey) as if you were a resident; in Column B, show your income from New Jersey sources. Follow the nonresident return instructions for completing each line. For every entry in Column A, there should be an entry on the corresponding line in Column B. If none of the income in Column A is from New Jersey sources, enter “0” in Column B. In some circumstances, the amount in Column B can be more than the amount in Column A.

You do not need to report income on line 22, Column B since pension, annuity, and IRA income is not taxable for nonresidents.

No entry is needed on line 25, Column B, since alimony and separate maintenance payments received are not taxable for nonresidents.

Pennsylvania residents are not subject to Income Tax on wages they earn in New Jersey. Therefore, if you are a Pennsylvania resident, you must report all your wages in Column A, and enter “0” in Column B.

Pennsylvania residents are subject to New Jersey tax on other types of income from New Jersey sources.

3. Pension and Other Retirement Income Exclusion.

- a. Pension Exclusion (line 28a). Column A: If you were a New Jersey nonresident for only part of the year and had total income from all sources for the entire year of $150,000 or less, you may qualify for a pension exclusion if you meet the other eligibility requirements. If your income for the entire year is $0 through $100,000, prorate the maximum exclusion amount from this chart based on the number of months you were a nonresident. Time spent as a nonresident for 15 days or more equals one full month. (See the description of how to prorate the pension exclusion amount on page 9).

Column B: Do not make an entry in Column B since pension, annuity, and IRA income is not taxable for nonresidents.

- b. Other Retirement Income Exclusion (line 28b, Columns A and B). If you (and/or your spouse, if filing jointly) were 62 or older on the last day of the year, you may qualify to exclude other income on line 28b. There are two parts to the total exclusion. Part I is the unclaimed portion of your prorated pension exclusion, and Part II is a special exclusion for taxpayers who cannot receive Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits. Do not complete Worksheet D in the NJ-1040NR instructions to calculate the total exclusion amount you are eligible to claim. Instead, use Worksheet E in the NJ-1040NR instructions to calculate your total exclusion as follows:

- Part I. Total the earned income (wages, net profits from business, partnership income, and S corporation income) you received from all sources for the entire year.

Part-Year Residents and Nonresidents

Understanding Income Tax

If your earned income for the entire year was $3,000 or less, and you did not use the entire prorated pension exclusion on line 28a, you may use the unclaimed pension exclusion on line 28b if your total income from all sources for the entire year – before subtracting a pension exclusion – was $150,000 or less;

- Part II. If you cannot receive Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits, but would have been eligible for benefits had you fully participated in either program, you also may be eligible for an additional exclusion, whether or not you used all of your prorated pension exclusion on line 28a.

When you and your spouse file a joint return, and only one of you is 62 or older, you can claim the full amount of the prorated exclusion. However, only the income of the one who is 62 or older can be excluded.
