Introduction

A State Tax Expenditure Report must be included in the Governor's Annual Budget Message, pursuant to P.L. 2009, Chapter 189. This is New Jersey's sixteenth annual Tax Expenditure Report.

WHAT IS A TAX EXPENDITURE?

Usually, when we speak of expenditures made by the State (or other governments), we are referring to direct expenditures. These are the typical expenditures that comprise a state budget – money spent on the personnel, goods and services required to support state programs and policy priorities in areas such as education, transportation, public safety, health and welfare, environmental protection and others.

In some cases, rather than distributing funds directly, the State will instead support certain priorities by reducing the amount of revenue it would otherwise collect under existing taxes. Like direct expenditures, these targeted tax reductions – typically provided in the form of tax exemptions, exclusions, credits, deductions or special rates – support the State's programs and policy priorities and are referred to as tax expenditures.

Tax expenditures can:

- Reduce tax burdens for specific groups of taxpayers – both individuals and businesses;
- Lower or eliminate taxes on goods, services or transactions that would normally be taxed; or
- Combine these features by providing tax relief that targets certain types of income or transactions for specific groups of taxpayers.

Some tax expenditures are widely available and benefit many taxpayers: for example, the federal mortgage interest deduction that allows homeowners who itemize their deductions to subtract the interest portion of their mortgage payments from their income, thus lowering their overall income tax bill; or special exemptions that eliminate sales tax on food and clothing in many states. Other tax expenditures are more narrowly focused, such as incentives that encourage specific types of businesses to locate in certain areas in exchange for a reduction in their corporate or property tax liability.

What these examples share in common is that they reduce the total revenue that would otherwise be collected under these taxes. Thus, tax expenditures are essentially a form of spending executed through the tax code.

WHAT ARE THE TYPES OF TAX EXPENDITURES?

For the purposes of this report, the Division of Taxation considers “tax expenditures” to be only those tax-revenue-reducing provisions explicitly specified under State law. These generally fall into five categories of preferential tax treatment: exemptions, exclusions, deductions, credits and direct property tax relief. These five categories are defined as follows:

Exemptions are categories of goods (or certain uses of those goods) or services that by law cannot be taxed. For example, prescription drugs are exempt under the New Jersey Sales and Use Tax law, as are food and clothing, as noted above. These expenditures often are not required to be reported. Social Security income is exempt for New Jersey Income Tax purposes and does not need to be reported on the State Income Tax return. Some exemptions, such as the Personal Exemption and Veteran Personal Exemption, represent reductions in taxable income intended to recognize certain unspecified personal costs incurred by individuals. (Other reductions in taxable income are classified as deductions, as described below).

Exclusions are similar in nature to exemptions, but may apply to only a portion of that otherwise-taxed category. For example, unlike Social Security income, only a portion of pension income is nontaxable. The portion of pension income not subject to tax is referred to as the Pension Exclusion.

Deductions reduce the amount of income or business receipts that are subject to tax. These reductions are usually tied to a particular type of expense that was incurred – for example, mortgage interest or alimony paid. Deductions may reduce taxable income by a specified dollar amount or a percentage of the expense incurred, and may be available broadly or to a specific category of recipient. Deductions are provided for any number of reasons, including the avoidance of double taxation on items that may have been taxed already. Common New Jersey Income Tax deductions include certain medical expenses and alimony.

Credits are direct reductions from the amount of taxes that must be paid. Because tax credits directly reduce the amount of taxes collected, they generally have a greater effect on revenues than exemptions, exclusions or deductions. Credits may result in refunds to taxpayers having no tax liability, as in the case of the New Jersey Earned Income Tax Credit.

Direct Property Tax Relief refers to direct payments from governmental entities to taxpayers who have completed the appropriate forms, in order to offset their local property tax burden.

WHAT'S IN THIS REPORT?

This report provides estimates of the dollar amounts by which New Jersey's tax expenditures reduce the final tax liability of individuals and businesses in the State. The estimates herein best reflect current law at the time of publication of this report, and do not assume or reflect policy changes recommended at the time of the Governor's Budget Message. The tax expenditures included in this report are grouped according to the taxes to which they apply. They are first presented in a comprehensive table organized by tax and type of tax expenditure, and are then explained in greater detail throughout the tax-specific sections that follow.

P.L. 2009, Chapter 189, requires the publication of all State tax expenditures made in the last completed fiscal year, the current fiscal year and the fiscal year to which the budget message applies. For the purposes of this report, those years are FY 2025, FY 2026 and FY 2027. The tax expenditure numbers for FY 2026 are estimated based on the first six months of actual data from FY 2026.

In addition to the estimates of the value of the tax expenditures, the law requires this report to include the following information, provided in the detailed sections of the report:

- Citation of the enabling legislation;
- Effective date of the tax expenditure;
- Objective of the tax expenditure;
- Description of the tax expenditure;
- Data source used for the estimate; and
- A measure of the reliability of the estimate.

While there are provisions in the tax code that represent direct expenditures or that aid in the efficient collection of revenue, the compilers of this report have made every effort to include only those provisions that represent actual tax expenditures as described above.

RELIABILITY OF THE ESTIMATES

Every estimate of the fiscal impact of a tax expenditure provided in this report is assigned a reliability rating on a scale of 1 to 4, 1 being the most reliable and 4 being the least. The rating takes into account the source and quality of the available data and the associated methodology used in calculating the estimated revenue foregone as a result of the given exemption, credit, deduction or exclusion. While estimates of the fiscal impact of many tax expenditures can be calculated directly from information reported on tax returns, others by necessity must be derived from incomplete or aggregate data from tax returns, from other State government agencies or from external sources such as federal agencies and market studies. As such, estimates in the report should be understood in the context of their reliability ratings and are subject to change annually as new data become available and methodologies for estimating are revisited. The ratings scale is provided below. Both the numeric rating and its definition are provided with the description of each tax expenditure for which an estimate is provided.

Reliability Rating	Definition
1	Based on the population of verified tax returns.
2	Based on a sample of verified tax returns.
3	Based on unverifiable tax records or information from other State and/or federal government agencies.
4	Based on average or marginal tax rates applied to aggregate data, including data from external and/or non-government sources.

The table below provides the distribution of ratings for tax expenditures under three major taxes and other taxes. Each column provides the rating distribution within a given tax. For example, under the Gross Income Tax, out of 48 tax expenditure estimates, four have a reliability rating of 1, 28 have a reliability rating of 2, and so on. Reading across the rows gives the distribution of each rating across taxes. For example, out of 39 tax expenditure estimates with a reliability rating of 1, there are four under the Gross Income Tax, none under the Sales and Use Tax, 11 under the Corporation Business Tax and 24 under other taxes.

What is New in This Edition?

The Tax Expenditure Report is formatted to highlight the costs of various tax incentives and tax-related benefits provided by the State of New Jersey. Some incentives are used to comply with Federal law or are required by the State Constitution.

This report contains estimates for the previous, current, and next fiscal year. In some cases, estimates will differ from the corresponding figures in a prior report. This is either because the data has been revised to reflect the most up-to-date figures or because improved techniques have been used to estimate the expenditures.

This edition includes updates in the following tax expenditures:

Gross Income Tax

The Family Leave Benefit Exclusion estimate, under the Gross Income Tax, has been broken out from the Temporary Disability Exclusion estimate, and reported separately in this year's report.

An exclusion of exempt gross income for certain net capital gains or income derived from the sale, exchange, or other disposition of qualified small business stock to the extent such gains or income are exempt from federal taxation, is available under the Gross Income Tax.

The Angel Investor Tax Credit rates, under the Gross Income Tax, are increased from 20 percent of the qualified investment made by a taxpayer to 35 percent; the higher credit amount of 25 percent of the qualified investment allowed to taxpayers (meeting certain requirements) is increased to 40 percent.

Sales and Use Tax

Beginning July 1, 2025, the sale of zero emission vehicles is taxed at the full statutory Sales and Use Tax rate, which is currently 6.625 percent, due to the Sales and Use Tax exemption on the sale of such vehicles phasing-out on June 30, 2025.

Corporation Business Tax

The Angel Investor Tax Credit rates, under the Corporation Business Tax, are increased from 20 percent of the qualified investment made by a taxpayer to 35 percent; the higher credit amount of 25 percent of the qualified investment allowed to taxpayers (meeting certain requirements) is increased to 40 percent.

The New Jersey Film and Digital Media Tax Credit rate, under the Corporation Business Tax, is increased from 35 percent to 40 percent of a company's qualified production expenses, as approved by the New Jersey Economic Development Authority.

The Brownfields Redevelopment Incentive Program, a tax credit program to incentivize environmental remediation, abatement, and demolition activities to allow for the redevelopment of brownfields sites, as approved by the New Jersey Economic Development Authority, is included in this year's report.

The Next New Jersey Manufacturing Program, a tax credit program intended to foster job growth by encouraging manufacturing facilities to establish and expand their physical presence in New Jersey, as approved by the New Jersey Economic Development Authority, is included in this year's report.

The New Jersey Housing and Mortgage Finance Agency is authorized to conduct tax credit auctions to provide financial assistance to support the development of certain housing programs. Purchasers who receive a tax credit through the auction may apply the credit against their Corporation Business Tax liability for the current privilege period of the date the credit was approved.

Insurance Premiums Tax

The New Jersey Housing and Mortgage Finance Agency is authorized to conduct tax credit auctions to provide financial assistance to support the development of certain housing programs. Purchasers who receive a tax credit through the auction may apply the credit against their Insurance Premiums Tax liability for the current privilege period of the date the credit was approved.

Local Property Tax Supported by State Government

The Property Tax Reimbursement program, also known as Senior Freeze, was amended to include disabled individuals under age 65 who receive federal Railroad Retirement Disability payments, and who meet all other program eligibility requirements. Previously, the program only included eligible disabled individuals under age 65 who received federal Social Security Disability payments.

Recent History

P.L. 2025, Chapter 67: The law provides an exclusion from New Jersey gross income of certain exempt net capital gains or income derived from the sale, exchange, or other disposition of qualified small business stock, to the extent such gains or income are exempt from federal taxation under section 1202 of the federal Internal Revenue Code. This law went into effect on July 1, 2025, and applies to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2026.

P.L. 2025, Chapter 71: The law increases the Angel Investor Tax Credit from 20 percent to 35 percent of the qualified investment made by the taxpayer, and from 25 percent to 40 percent for taxpayers meeting certain requirements. The law modifies the definition of "New Jersey based business" and "New Jersey emerging technology business" to decrease the employee threshold from fewer than 225 to fewer than 150. The value of credits cannot exceed $500,000 for each qualified investment made. The credit can be applied against a taxpayer's Gross Income Tax liability and must be allowed in the privilege period in which the taxpayer applied for the credit. The law also repeals the New Jersey Ignite Act. This law went into effect on June 30, 2025, and applies to any applications for the Angel Investor Tax Credit that are approved for taxable years and privilege periods beginning on or after January 1, 2026.

P.L. 2024, Chapter 1: The law allows GIT taxpayers to utilize an alternative method to calculate a depreciation deduction of eligible capital expenditures incurred in connection with the construction of new affordable housing developments, owned by the taxpayer.

P.L. 2023, Chapter 125: The law revises the statute of limitations for a taxpayer to adjust their credit for taxes paid to another jurisdiction if the taxpayer's income is adjusted by another state. The law also establishes an employer convenience income sourcing rule for New Jersey. The law creates a tax credit for resident taxpayers that successfully challenges another state's employer convenience income sourcing rules when working from a New Jersey location. The law establishes a pilot program within the Economic Development Authority to provide grants to qualifying businesses that reassign their New Jersey resident employees to New Jersey locations.

P.L. 2023, Chapter 72: The law doubles the benefit amount of the Child Tax Credit. This refundable tax credit is available to taxpayers with less than $80,000 in taxable income and who have children age five years and younger at the end of the taxable year.

P.L. 2023, Chapter 4: The law provides gross income tax credits for certain deliveries of low carbon concrete and for costs of conducting environmental product declaration analyses of low carbon concrete. For GIT filers, the credits may not reduce the taxpayer's liability below zero.

Unused credits may be carried forward for up to seven tax years. The Division of Taxation can neither issue more than $10 million in tax credit certificates per year nor allow any taxpayer to obtain tax credits of more than $1 million in any tax year. This law went into effect on July 30, 2023, and applies to tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2024.

P.L. 2022, Chapter 125: The law codified the existing treatment of the cancellation of a disabled veteran's federal student loan debt for New Jersey Gross Income Tax purposes. The cancellation or forgiveness of debt income is currently not subject to New Jersey Gross Income Tax. The law codified this treatment as it applies specifically to certain federal student loan debt held by disabled veterans that is discharged through the Total and Permanent Disability discharge program of the U.S. Department of Education. This law went into effect on December 5, 2022.

P.L. 2022, Chapter 71: The law exempts compensation for services performed by a member of a district board of elections from Gross Income Tax, including any compensation paid to an election officer during an early voting period. This law went into effect on July 28, 2022.

P.L. 2022, Chapter 24 and P.L.2022, Chapter 115: The law created a refundable Child Tax Credit for resident taxpayers with taxable incomes of $80,000 or less. This credit is available for all filing statuses except married filing separate. The taxable income ranges and credit amounts are the same, regardless of filing status. A taxpayer could claim a tax credit amount of up to $500 per child under the age of six. This law applies to tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2022.

Sales and Use Tax Overview

Description

Sales and Use Tax applies to receipts from the retail sale, rental, or use of tangible personal property or digital property; retail sale of producing, fabricating, processing, installing, maintaining, repairing, and servicing tangible personal property or digital property; maintaining, servicing, or repairing real property; certain direct-mail services; tattooing, tanning, and massage services; investigation and security services; information services; limousine services; sales of restaurant meals and prepared food; rental of hotel and motel rooms; certain admission charges; certain membership fees; parking charges; storage services; sales of magazines and periodicals; delivery charges; and telecommunications services, except as otherwise provided in the Sales and Use Tax Act.

A compensating Use Tax is also imposed when taxable goods and services are purchased and New Jersey Sales Tax is either not collected or is collected at a rate less than New Jersey's Sales Tax rate. The Use Tax is due when such goods, or the goods on which taxable services are performed, come into New Jersey. If Sales Tax was paid to another state, the Use Tax is only due if the tax was paid at a rate that is less than New Jersey's rate.

All persons required to collect the tax must file a Business Registration Application (Form NJ-REG). Each registrant's authority to collect the Sales Tax is certified by a Certificate of Authority issued by the Division, which must be prominently displayed at each place of business to which it applies.

Major exemptions include: sales of newspapers; magazines and periodicals sold by subscription and membership periodicals; casual sales except motor vehicles and registered boats; clothing; farm supplies and equipment; flags of New Jersey and the United States; unprepared food and food ingredients purchased for human consumption; food sold in school cafeterias; prescription and certain nonprescription drugs and other medical aids; motor fuels; textbooks; professional and personal services unless otherwise taxable under the Act; real estate sales; tangible personal property used in research and development; production machinery and equipment.

The Sales and Use Tax Act was amended, effective October 1, 2005, to conform New Jersey's law to the requirements of the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement.

SSUTA is a multi-state effort to simplify and modernize the collection and administration of Sales and Use Taxes. The adoption of the SSUTA resulted in significant changes in New Jersey's tax policy and administration, including uniform product definitions and changes in the taxability of specific items. In addition, the SSUTA provided for the creation of a new central registration system, certain amnesty provisions, and minor changes in the treatment of exemption certificates.

Rate

The rate of tax is 6.625 percent as of January 1, 2018.

Disposition of Revenues

Revenues are deposited in the State Treasury for general State use; provided, however, a percentage of the annual revenue derived from the tax is constitutionally dedicated for the purposes of property tax reform.

Recent History

P.L. 2024, Chapter 80: The law revises the definition of a “qualified assistance fund expense” to include the improvement of transportation infrastructure located within the UEZ, regardless of whether the improvement is made within a commercial or transportation corridor. The law also clarifies that qualifying municipalities would be able to use funds received through the UEZ program for transportation infrastructure projects and related debt service.

P.L. 2024, Chapter 73: The law modifies the definition of “hemp product” and adds a definition of “total THC” (tetrahydrocannabinol) pursuant to the New Jersey Hemp Farming Act. It also amends the New Jersey Cannabis Regulatory, Enforcement Assistance, and Marketplace Modernization (CREAMM) Act to add a definition of “intoxicating hemp product” and “total THC.” The law imposes Sales Tax and local transfer tax (if imposed by the municipality) to retail sale of intoxicating hemp beverages.

P.L. 2024, Chapter 64: The law exempts receipts of investment metal bullion and investment coin sales from Sales and Use Tax. “Investment metal bullion” is defined as any elementary precious metal that has been put through a process of smelting or refining. This includes, but is not limited to, gold, silver, platinum, and palladium in a state or condition that its value depends on its contents, not its form. It does not include any precious metal that has been assembled, fabricated, manufactured, or processed for industrial, aesthetic, or artistic use. “Investment coin” is defined as any numismatic coin manufactured of gold, silver, platinum, palladium, or other metal having fair market value of not less than $1,000, and does not include jewelry or works of art made of coins or commemorative medallions.

P.L. 2024, Chapter 19: The law phases-out the Sales and Use Tax exemption for sales of zero emission vehicles (ZEVs). Effective October 1, 2024, through June 30, 2025, a tax rate of 3.3125 percent will be imposed on the sale of ZEVs. Beginning July 1, 2025, ZEVs will be taxed at the full statutory rate, which is currently 6.625 percent. The law also repeals the annual Sales Tax holiday established by P.L. 2022, Chapter 21, for the sale of certain school supplies and sport or recreational equipment.

P.L. 2024, Chapter 3: The law provides a Sales and Use Tax exemption for purchases made by contractors or repair persons of materials, supplies, and services for certain affordable housing projects. All units must be for occupants with moderate, low, or very low incomes as defined in the “Fair Housing Act”.

P.L. 2023, Chapter 282: The law clarifies that the retail sale of recreational cannabis and cannabis products sold in Urban Enterprise Zones (UEZs) are subject to the full Sales Tax rate, and that the resulting tax revenues be credited to the Cannabis Regulatory, Enforcement Assistance, and Marketplace Modernization Fund instead of the Urban Enterprise Zone Assistance Fund. Non-cannabis related retail sales made by businesses located in designated UEZs continue to qualify for the 50 percent Sales Tax exemption.

P.L. 2022, Chapter 97: The law excludes the installation of signs from the existing capital improvement Sales and Use Tax exemption. Sign fabricators and installation contractors can purchase signs or materials used to fabricate or install signs without paying Sales Tax if they issue a fully completed resale certificate to the seller. However, they must charge their customers Sales Tax on the sales price of all signs. This law applies to transactions occurring on or after October 1, 2022.

P.L. 2022, Chapter 42: The law authorizes a Sales and Use Tax exemption for certain purchases made by certain supermarkets and grocery stores located within Urban Enterprise Zones. The law clarifies that the $100,000 exempt purchase limitation imposed on UZ-4/UZ-5 holders is an annual limitation. In addition, the law allows unlimited exempt purchases by supermarkets or grocery stores within Urban Enterprise Zones if they receive an annual certification from the State Department of Community Affairs. This law went into effect on June 30, 2022.

P.L. 2022, Chapter 21: The law established a 10-day Sales Tax exemption period for certain retail purchases of personal computers with a sales price of less than $3,000, school computer supplies priced less than $1,000, school supplies, school art supplies, school instructional materials, and sport or recreational equipment. This law went into effect on June 30, 2022, and was applicable to purchases made between 12:01 a.m. on the ninth day preceding the first Monday in September of each year and 11:59 p.m. on the first Monday in September of each year. For 2022, the dates were August 27 through September 5. For 2023, the dates are August 26 through September 4. This law was later repealed by P.L.2024, Chapter 19, and only was in effect during Calendar Years 2022 and 2023.

Corporation Business Tax Overview

Description

The Corporation Business Tax Act imposes a franchise tax on a domestic corporation for the privilege of existing as a corporation under New Jersey law, and on a foreign corporation for the privilege of having or exercising its corporate charter in this State or doing business, employing or owning capital or property, maintaining an office, deriving receipts, or engaging in contracts in New Jersey. The tax applies to all domestic corporations and all foreign corporations having a taxable status unless specifically exempt. The tax also applies to joint-stock companies or associations, business trusts, limited partnership associations, financial business corporations, and banking corporations, including national banks.

Also, a corporation is defined as any other entity classified as a corporation for federal income tax purposes and any state or federally chartered building and loan association or savings and loan association. Taxpayers must pay the greater of their liability under the net Income Tax or the alternative minimum assessment. The income-based tax is measured by that portion of the net income allocable to New Jersey. The tax applies to net income for the firm's accounting period (calendar year or fiscal year), or any part thereof during which the corporation has a taxable status within New Jersey.

The alternative minimum assessment is based on apportioned gross receipts or gross profits. Exempt from the tax are certain agricultural cooperative associations; federal corporations which are exempt from state taxation; corporations created under the limited-dividend housing corporation law; nonprofit cemetery corporations; nonprofit corporations without capital stock; non-stock mutual housing corporations; railroad and canal corporations; sewerage and water corporations; insurance companies subject to premiums tax; and certain municipal electric corporations.

Rate

The tax rates range from 6.5 percent to 9 percent on adjusted entire net income, or the portion of entire net income allocated to New Jersey. However, most taxpayers pay the top rate of 9 percent. For privilege periods beginning in 2024 through 2028, there is an additional 2.5 percent Corporate Transit Fee on taxpayers with allocated taxable net income over $10 million.

The minimum Corporation Business Tax ranges from $375 to $2,000 (depending on corporate structure) for all members of a controlled or affiliated group of corporations if the aggregate annual payroll for all corporations is $5 million or more.

Disposition of Revenues

Revenues collected from general business corporations are deposited in the State Treasury for general State use.

Article 8, Section 2, paragraph 6, of the State Constitution was amended to dedicate four percent of Corporation Business Tax revenue to fund hazardous discharge cleanup, underground storage tank improvements, and surface water quality projects.

Recent History

P.L. 2025, Chapter 71: The law increases the Angel Investor Tax Credit from 20 percent to 35 percent of the qualified investment made by the taxpayer, and from 25 percent to 40 percent for taxpayers meeting certain requirements. The law modifies the definition of "New Jersey based business" and "New Jersey emerging technology business" to decrease the employee threshold from fewer than 225 to fewer than 150. The value of credits cannot exceed $500,000 for each qualified investment made. The credit can be applied against a taxpayer's Corporation Business Tax liability and must be allowed in the privilege period in which the taxpayer applied for the credit. The law also repeals the New Jersey Ignite Act. This law went into effect on June 30, 2025, and applies to any applications for the Angel Investor Tax Credit that are approved for taxable years and privilege periods beginning on or after January 1, 2026.

P.L. 2025, Chapter 81: The law modifies certain requirements and award availability under the Film and Digital Media Content Production Tax Credit Program. The law extends the eligibility period of the program by 10 years, from on or before July 1, 2039, to on or before July 1, 2049, and extends the timeframe for awarding credits from prior to Fiscal Year 2040 to prior to Fiscal Year 2050. The law amends various definitions and eligibility requirements the New Jersey Economic Development Authority uses to award Garden State Film and Digital Media tax credits and changes how the tax certificate or tax credit transfer certificate holder may use the credit. P.L. 2025, Chapter 111: The law authorizes the New Jersey Housing and Mortgage Finance Agency to use $500,000,000 in tax credits to support the development of certain housing programs by amending the New Jersey Economic Recovery Act of 2020 and supplementing P.L. 1983, c.530. The law directs the NJHMFA to conduct tax credit auctions to provide financial assistance for certain housing purposes. This law went into effect on July 22, 2025.

P.L. 2025, Chapter 123: The law establishes the Next New Jersey Manufacturing Program under the authority of the New Jersey Economic Development Authority to incentivize in-State manufacturing investments and job creation. This tax credit program is designed to foster job growth by encouraging manufacturing facilities to establish and expand their physical presence in New Jersey. To claim the credits, an eligible business must apply to the NJEDA beginning August 13, 2025, but prior to March 1, 2029; be in good standing; and receive a tax clearance certificate from the Division of Taxation. This law went into effect on August 13, 2025.

The law changes how the tax certificate holder may either use or transfer the credit. For all programs, the tax certificate holder can now first use the credit in the tax period for which it was issued, or the tax period in which it was issued. Additionally, tax credits issued for the Business Retention and Relocation Assistance and the Grow New Jersey Assistance programs can be first used in any tax period during the project’s specified commitment duration, while tax credits issued for Business Employment Incentive Program and the Urban Transit Tax Credit program can be first used in any tax period during the time the business is required to maintain the project at a New Jersey location.

P.L. 2024, Chapter 33: The law amends the Garden State Film and Digital Media Jobs Act to address the treatment of wages paid under reciprocity agreements. It expands the definition of “qualified film production expenses” and “qualified digital media content production expenses” to include the treatment of New Jersey wages and salaries paid to Pennsylvania residents. In addition, the definition of “full-time or full-time equivalent employee” was also modified to include Pennsylvania residents working in New Jersey.

P.L. 2024, Chapter 20: The law imposes a 2.5 percent Corporate Transit Fee on Corporation Business Tax (CBT) taxpayers with allocated taxable net income in excess of $10 million. The Corporate Transit Fee is in addition to the taxpayer’s regular CBT liability, and taxpayers cannot claim a credit against the fee except for credits for installment payments, estimated payments made with request for an extension of time to file a return, or overpayments from prior privilege periods. The definition of “Allocated taxable net income” is identical to “taxable net income” as defined in the Corporation Business Tax Act for the purpose of this chapter law.

P.L. 2024, Chapter 1: The law allows CBT taxpayers to utilize an alternative method to calculate a depreciation deduction of eligible capital expenditures incurred in connection with the construction of new affordable housing developments, owned by the taxpayer.

P.L. 2023, Chapter 197: The law establishes the Cultural Arts Incentives Program, which incentivizes the establishment of cultural arts projects in New Jersey. An eligible cultural arts institution seeking a tax credit pursuant to the program must apply for the credit with the NJEDA beginning January 1, 2026, and prior to March 1, 2029. Tax credits awarded to a cultural arts institution under this program may be applied against Corporation Business Tax (CBT) and Insurance Premium Tax (IPT) liabilities.

P.L. 2023, Chapter 118: The law allows for businesses to apply New Jersey Innovation Evergreen tax credits against their Insurance Premiums Tax liability. The law no longer requires that a purchaser apply for a tax credit transfer certificate in the same privilege period in which the director allowed the credit. The law modifies the treatment of tax credits that are sold under the Food Desert Relief Program. The change allows a business to claim a tax credit in the privilege period during which the sale is approved.

P.L. 2023, Chapter 98: The law revises various provisions of "New Jersey Economic Recovery Act of 2020," specifically revisions to New Jersey Aspire Program. The law allows an eligible New Jersey Aspire Program tax certificate holder to transfer all or some of the tax credit amount to another recipient for use in the tax period that the original certificate was issued. In addition, the law allows the tax certificate holder to carry forward all or a portion of the tax credit amount over five successive tax periods.

P.L. 2023, Chapter 97: The law revises provisions of the Garden State Film and Digital Media Jobs Act. The law extends the timeframe of the credit's availability, to privilege periods or tax years beginning before July 1, 2039.

P.L. 2023, Chapter 4: The law provides corporation business tax credits for certain deliveries of low carbon concrete and for costs of conducting environmental product declaration analyses of low carbon concrete. For CBT filers, the credits may not reduce the amount of tax due below the statutory minimum. Unused credits may be carried forward for up to seven privilege periods. The Division of Taxation can neither issue more than $10 million in tax credit certificates per year nor allow any taxpayer to obtain tax credits of more than $1 million in any privilege period. This law went into effect on July 30, 2023, and applies to privilege periods beginning on or after January 1, 2024.

P.L. 2022, Chapter 75: The law increases total available tax credits under the Economic Redevelopment and Growth (ERG) Program by $25 million while also amending requirements for certain mixed use parking projects undertaken by municipal redevelopers under ERG.

P.L. 2022, Chapter 48: The law allows certain cannabis businesses to benefit from specific economic and financial incentives they were previously not eligible to receive. It redefined the types of economic and financial incentive awards considered to be “State or local economic incentives” under the “New Jersey Cannabis Regulatory, Enforcement Assistance, and Marketplace Modernization Act.” In addition, the law newly defines “small business” for determining which cannabis businesses may be eligible for certain financial incentives or funding provided by the NJEDA or Department of Labor and Workforce Development. This law went into effect on June 30, 2022.

P.L. 2022, Chapter 47: The law revises certain provisions of the Food Desert Relief Program administered by the New Jersey Economic Development Authority (NJEDA). Credits issued under the program now may be applied against Insurance Premium Tax liabilities, in addition to Corporation Business Tax liabilities. The law also adds a seven-year carryforward provision for those credits sold by the NJEDA to eligible businesses. Taxpayers may apply to the Division of Taxation and the NJEDA for a tax credit transfer certificate in lieu of the taxpayer being allowed to claim their credit against their tax liability. The taxpayer is allowed to sell the credit for no less than $25,000 during the privilege period in which they receive the certificate, and the taxpayer may not sell the certificate, or use it as collateral, for less than 85 percent of the credit amount. Credits purchased from a taxpayer may be carried forward for 10 privilege periods and cannot reduce tax liability below the statutory minimum tax. This law became effective on June 30, 2022.

P.L. 2020, Chapter 156 (Sections 9-19): The law establishes the Brownfields Redevelopment Incentive Program under the jurisdiction of the New Jersey Economic Development Authority. The purpose of the program is to compensate developers of redevelopment projects located on brownfield sites for remediation costs through the issuance of tax credits. A brownfield site is defined as any former or current commercial or industrial site that is currently vacant or underutilized and on which there has been, or is suspected to have been, a discharge of a contaminant or contaminated building material. To qualify, developers must enter into a redevelopment agreement with the authority and demonstrate a project financing gap, with developer-contributed capital of at least 20 percent of total remediation costs. The total value of tax credits approved by the authority is subject to the limitations set forth in section 98 of P.L. 2020, c.156, and any unapproved, uncertified, or recaptured portions may be carried over and reallocated in succeeding years.

Note: The New Jersey Economic Development Authority (NJEDA) provides tax expenditure estimates for certain business tax credits available under the CBT and GIT. These estimates reflect credits certified and issued or expected to be issued in the fiscal year in question, including credits for prior tax years. These credits are not necessarily applied to returns during the fiscal year in which they are issued. In addition, for some credit programs, the estimates reflect the statutory maximum for credits that can be issued in the tax year.

The law amends N.J.S.A. 54:4-8.67 to allow disabled individuals under age 65 who receive federal Railroad Retirement Disability payments, and meet all of the other eligibility requirements, to apply for the Property Tax Reimbursement (PTR) program. Previously, only disabled individuals under age 65 who received federal Social Security Disability payments who met all of the other eligibility requirements could apply for the PTR program. This law went into effect March 6, 2025.

P.L. 2024, Chapter 88: The law requires the Division to promulgate a combined single application for the ANCHOR rebate, Property Tax Reimbursement (Senior Freeze) benefit, and Stay NJ; notify claimants in writing with a detailed calculation of the amount they are entitled to receive, if eligible; outline the maximum benefit allowed; replace the definition of “gross income” with “income;” amend the definition of “eligible claimant;” and amend N.J.S.A. 54:4-8.58, N.J.S.A. 54A:3A-17, as well as facets of N.J.S.A. 47:1B-3 (Daniel’s Law).

will be ineligible for reimbursement in the year that their income exceeds the limit. If the claimant again exceeds the income limit for any succeeding tax year, they will have to establish a new base year when they become eligible.

P.L. 2023, Chapter 75 established the Stay NJ property tax credit program and the Stay NJ Task Force, expanded income limits and modified ownership requirements for eligibility to receive homestead property tax reimbursement, and enhanced ANCHOR benefits for seniors.

Motor Fuels Tax

Description

P.L. 2010, Chapter 22, the Motor Fuels Tax Act, effective July 1, 2010, as amended, and operative beginning January 1, 2011, repeals prior Motor Fuels legislation in order to make sweeping changes in the licensing, reporting, and the imposition and collection of the Motor Fuels Taxes.

Motor fuels taxes are levied on all grades of gasoline, diesel, and gasohol (a mixture of ethanol and unleaded gasoline). Dyed Fuel is exempt from taxation.

The tax is due from the consumer, but it is remitted to the State by the supplier, or in rare cases, by the distributor. The tax is pre-collected by the supplier before going all the way down the supply chain.

Rate

The general motor fuels tax rate is $0.105 per gallon of gasoline. A tax of $0.0525 per gallon is imposed on petroleum gas and liquefied petroleum gas sold or used to propel motor vehicles on public highways.

The Diesel Fuel Tax rate is $0.135 per gallon, of which $0.03 per gallon is refundable for fuel used in passenger automobiles and motor vehicles of less than 5,000 pounds gross weight.

Tax exempt sales include sales to the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof and to the State of New Jersey and its political subdivisions, departments and agencies. Sales of dyed fuel and sales for export are also exempt.

Disposition of Revenues

Certain revenues are credited to a special account in the General Fund and are dedicated from the Motor Fuels Tax, the Petroleum Products Gross Receipts Tax, and the Sales and Use Tax to the Transportation Trust Fund for maintenance of the State's transportation system (New Jersey Constitution, Article 8, Section 2, paragraph 4).

Appendix II: Taxes of the State of New Jersey

The following outline provides basic information regarding taxes imposed by the State of New Jersey and administered by the Division of Taxation and the Division of Revenue and Enterprise Services that a new business may be responsible for collecting and paying.

New Jersey Gross Income Tax

(N.J.S.A. 54:A:1-1 et seq.)

Personal Income Tax is imposed on the New Jersey taxable income of resident and nonresident individuals, estates and trusts for taxable years ending on or after July 1, 1976. Residents are subject to tax on all income, regardless of where it was earned, while nonresidents are only subject to tax on income derived from sources within New Jersey.

The withholding requirements apply to every New Jersey employer making payment of taxable wages. For New Jersey Gross Income Tax purposes, the term "employer" includes organizations that may be exempt from federal income tax or New Jersey Corporation Business Tax, such as religious organizations and governmental agencies.

Generally, anything regarded as "wages" for federal withholding purposes is subject to withholding for the New Jersey Income Tax. Every employer is required to file a quarterly return of tax withheld (NJ-927) for each calendar quarter. Some employers are also required to file a monthly remittance (NJ-500). Employers classified as "weekly payers" must remit payment of withholdings by means of Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT) on the Wednesday of the week following the week in which the taxes were withheld.

Employers not classified as weekly payers must remit the tax withheld with their withholding return either monthly or quarterly, depending on the amount of withholding liability.

Reciprocal Agreement

(New Jersey & Pennsylvania Residents Only)

Under the Reciprocal Tax Agreement, the compensation derived by residents of either state (New Jersey or Pennsylvania) will be subject to income tax only in the state of residence including compensation income derived from sources within the other state.

Compensation that is limited to the provisions of the Reciprocal Agreement means salaries, wages, tips, fees, commissions, bonuses and other remuneration received for services rendered. Businesses or professional income earned by a resident of either state is not covered by the Reciprocal Agreement and is subject to the income tax of the state in which it is earned.

Withholding Requirement for Contractor Services

(N.J.S.A.54A:7-1)

Effective January 1, 2007, the law requires persons, other than a governmental entity, homeowner, or tenant, who maintain an office or transact business in New Jersey and make payments for services to certain unincorporated construction contractors and unregistered individuals to withhold New Jersey Gross Income Tax at the rate of 7 percent from those payments. For more information regarding the withholding requirement for contractor services, go to the Division's Web site at:

www.state.nj.us/treasury/taxation/noticegit.shtml.

Unemployment and Disability Taxes

If you are employing, or expect to employ, one or more persons, you should notify the Division of Revenue and Enterprise Services so that a determination can be made as to whether or not you are subject to the law. Under the law (N.J.S.A. 43:21-19(h1) et seq.) it is your responsibility to make the fact known.

Determination of Liability - If you start a business and employ one or more individuals and pay wages of $1,000 or more in a calendar year, you may be subject to the law.

If you acquire the organization, trade or business, or substantially all the assets of an employing unit which is already subject to the law, you immediately become a subject employer.

If you are subject to the provisions of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA) you automatically become subject under the law, unless the services performed are specifically excluded under the New Jersey law. An employing unit is generally subject to FUTA if it had covered employment during some portion of a day in 20 different calendar weeks within the calendar year or had a quarterly payroll of $1,500 or more.

Note: Agricultural Employers -You are liable for contributions on wages paid to agricultural employees if:

1. You were already a registered employer, or
2. Not registered, you were or became subject to the Law, having paid wages of $1,000 or more in a calendar year to one or more workers for services performed in a non-agricultural business operation, or
3. You acquired the organization, trade or business, or substantially all the assets of an employing unit already subject to the law, or
4. You are subject to the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, or
5. Not subject under the above provisions, you:
 1. Paid gross cash remuneration of $20,000 or more to individuals employed in

- agricultural labor during any calendar quarter, or
2. Employed ten or more individuals in agricultural labor, regardless of whether they were employed at the same moment of time, for some portion of a day in each of 20 different calendar weeks, whether or not such weeks were consecutive.

Special Employers - Under certain circumstances, a crew leader who provides a crew to an agricultural employer, can be considered the employer of the crew for unemployment tax purposes. The agreement between the crew leader and entity must comply with all federal and State regulations and the crew leader must be registered under the New Jersey Crew Leader Registration Act. For further information contact any Regional Office.

Domestic Employers - In order for you to become subject to the law, you must have paid gross cash wages of at least $1,000 to domestic labor in a calendar quarter.

The State of New Jersey and its political subdivisions are subject to the law.

Set Off of Individual Liability

(N.J.S.A. 54A:9-7 et seq.)

Public Laws of 1981, Chapter 239, provides the authority for the New Jersey Department of the Treasury to apply or cause to be applied any monies due a taxpayer as a Gross Income Tax refund or Homestead Property Tax rebate, or both, if necessary, toward satisfaction of any indebtedness that the taxpayer may have outstanding to any agency or institution of the New Jersey State Government or the Internal Revenue Service.

Corporation Business Tax

(N.J.S.A. 54:10A-1 et seq.)

The Corporation Business Tax Act imposes a franchise tax for the privilege of having or exercising a corporate charter, deriving income or doing business, employing or owning capital or property or maintaining an office in New Jersey. The tax also applies to foreign corporations falling into one of the following categories:

Holds a general Certificate of Authority issued by the Division of Revenue and Enterprise Services to do business in New Jersey; or

- Holds a certificate, license, or other authorization issued by another New Jersey department or agency authorizing it to engage in business within New Jersey; or
- Employs or owns capital in New Jersey; or
- Employs or owns property in New Jersey; or
- Maintains an office in New Jersey; or

- Derives receipts from sources in New Jersey; or
- Engages in contacts in New Jersey; or
- Does business in New Jersey.

Returns are required to be filed on or before the 15th day of the fourth month following the close of the taxpayer's accounting period. Every corporation must, before commencing to do business in this State, obtain a Corporate Charter from the Division of Revenue and Enterprise Services.

New Jersey S Corporations

P.L. 1993, Chapter 173, provides that a corporation may elect to be treated as a New Jersey S corporation. A corporation may make the election to be treated as a New Jersey S corporation only if the corporation is or will be an S corporation pursuant to Section 1361 of the Internal Revenue Code, and each initial shareholder of the corporation consents to the election and the jurisdiction requirements by submitting the S corporation election form (CBT-2553).

Notice of Business Activities Reporting Act

(N.J.S.A. 14A:13-14 to 14A:13-23)

Foreign corporations which carry on any activity or own or maintain any property in this State, unless specifically exempted, must file an annual Notice of Business Activities Report. No report is necessary if the foreign corporation has received a Certificate of Authority to do business in New Jersey or has filed a timely return as required under the Corporation Business Tax or the Corporation Income Tax Acts.

The failure of a foreign corporation to file a timely report may prevent the use of the courts in New Jersey for all contracts executed and all causes of action that arose at any time prior to the end of the last accounting period for which the corporation failed to file a required timely report.

Corporation Banking and Financial Business Tax

(N.J.S.A. 54:10A-1 et seq.)

Banking and financial businesses that operate as corporate entities are subject to the provisions of the New Jersey Corporation Business Tax Act. For a calendar year operation, a Banking and Financial Corporation Return (BFC-1) is due on the 15th day of April or the 15th day of the fourth month after the close of the fiscal year.

Sales and Use Tax

(N.J.S.A. 54:32B-1 et seq.)

A tax is imposed on the receipts from every retail sale or rental of tangible personal property, food and beverage sold by restaurants or caterers, and charges for admissions and occupancies of hotel rooms except as otherwise provided in the Act. The tax is also imposed on the receipts from every sale except for resale of certain services as enumerated in the Act including, for example, installing, repairing or maintaining tangible or real property, storage services, telecommunications, direct mail processing, investigation and security services.

A Use Tax is imposed on items acquired for use in this State on which a Sales Tax would be due but has not been paid.

The law exempts many items such as food ingredients for human consumption, prescription drugs, ordinary clothing and footwear, and utilities such as water, steam, and fuel.

The Act further provides tax exemptions for certain items and services when used or consumed under specifically defined conditions or circumstances.

The Sales and Use Tax is imposed on the consumer; however, every person required to collect any tax imposed by this Act shall be personally liable for collecting and remitting such tax.

Persons required to collect the tax and persons accepting exemption certificates must complete the Registration Application (NJ-REG).
